Hoffa Draws Prison, Fine On Fraud Case

Pension Funds Raid Sentences Meted To Seven

CHICAGO (UPI) — Teamster president James R. Hoffa today was sentenced to five years in prison and ordered to pay a $10,000 fine for his conviction in a 25 million dollar union pension fund fraud.

U. S. District Judge Richard B. Austin sentenced Hoffa to serve five years on each of four counts, but ordered the sentences to be served concurrently. Austin also ruled the five-year term would be served consecutively with an eight-year term Hoffa received for a jury tampering conviction at Chattanooga, Tenn., earlier this year.

Attorneys for Hoffa and six codefendants said they would appeal.

TWO COUNTS

Hoffa was convicted of two counts of wire fraud, one count of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy after a 13-week trial that ended July 26. He could have been sentenced to up to 20 years' imprisonment and up to $13,000 in fines.

Austin sentenced defendant Benjamin Dranow, an inmate of the Sandstone, Minn., federal prison, to five years, but said the sentence would run concurrently with Dranow's present 12-year term.

The lightest sentence was handed down to Abe I. Weinblatt, a former partner of Dranow—one hour in the custody of the U. S. Marshal and a $5,000 fine.

NO FINE

Dranow received no fine.

Zachary S. Strate Jr. New Orleans builder, and Calvin Kovens, Miami contractor, each received three years and $5,000 fine.

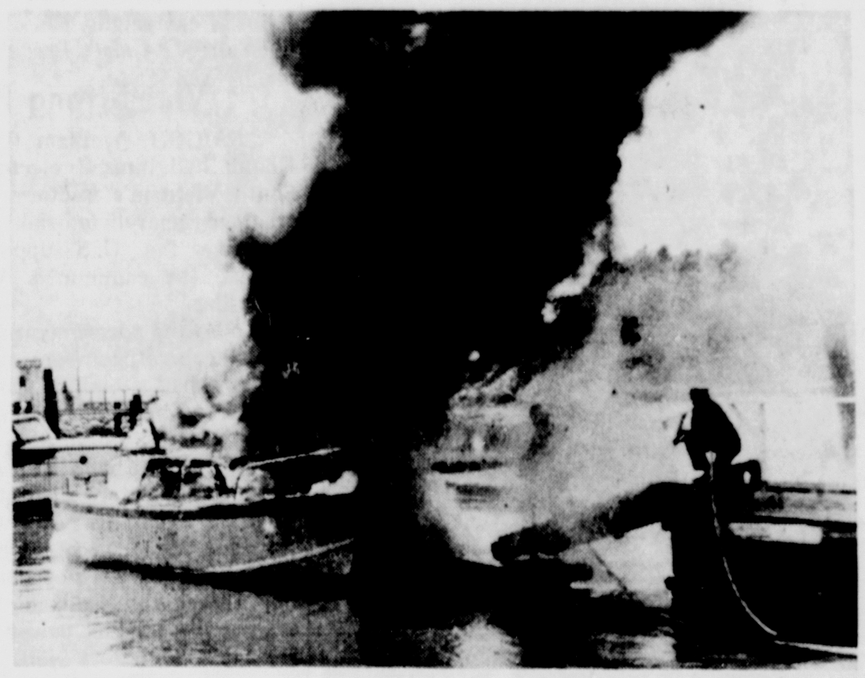

S. George Burris, New York accountant, received 18 months and a $5,000 fine and Samuel Hymen, Miami Beach hotelman, was sentenced to a year and a day and levied a $5,000 fine.

Before passing sentence Austin asked Hoffa if he had anything to say.

"No, Your Honor, the record speaks for itself," Hoffa said.

Hoffa refused to talk with newsmen after the hearing. He went immediately to the clerk's office where he posted $10,000 bond pending his appeal.

Explosion Destroys Newly Bought Yacht

TOTAL LOSS—A San Rafael fireman plays water on raging flames which poured from a San Jose couple's $11,000 cabin cruiser after it exploded at the Loch Lomond Marina shortly after noon yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Gill suffered first degree burns as they fled the burning craft. Another couple with them got to safety without harm. Photo was snapped by Joseph J. DeFino of San Anselmo, who was on another boat nearby.

2 Suffer Burns 1st Time Out

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

The maiden voyage of a San Jose couple's newly purchased 27-foot cabin cruiser came to a sorry end yesterday when the boat exploded and burned at Loch Lomond Marina, 630 Point San Pedro Road, putting its owner in San Rafael General Hospital with extensive burns.

A San Rafael fireman and the marina's assistant harbormaster also suffered hand burns, but a second couple aboard the boat escaped without injury.

In satisfactory condition at the hospital were Roy W. Gill, 51, who suffered burns on his hands, feet and body, and his wife, Rosemary, 48, who had first degree burns on the right arm, hand and a small part of her face.

BURNS NOT SERIOUS

All their burns, however, were diagnosed as first degree, less serious than second or third degree.

Firemen said, the new Tollycraft, valued at $11,000, was destroyed.

The Gills, with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baggs of San Jose aboard, had stopped at the local marina on the first leg of their first major trip with the boat. They took on fuel here and were starting to leave for a voyage into the San Joaquin Delta.

SUDDEN BLAST

Witnesses said the two couples waved to others on shore, then Gill pushed the starter button, which triggered the blast, as a spark apparently ignited fumes in the bilge.

Part of the cabin was blown away, and the rest of the boat erupted in flames.

The women, who were on the dock side of the cruiser, scrambled to the dock. Gill and Baggs jumped into the water, and were aided to safety by the marina's assistant harbormaster, William Zowasky.

Zowasky suffered a burned right hand in the process, and acting fire captain Victor Pazarro, who led eight San Rafael firemen at the scene, was burned on the left hand.

Firemen, hampered by the boat's floating away from shore, were unable to prevent it from burning to the water line.

Experimenter Trying For 'Sound Trigger'

By GLENN BECKER
(First of a series)

"It isn't done until it works."

Following this self-imposed stricture with determination, 17-year-old John Rostoni of 614 C Street, San Rafael, has collected an amazingly varied assortment of electronic equipment which is almost all at some incomplete stage of development.

John, who will be a senior at San Rafael High School in September, is most engrossed with a sound trigger designed to set off a strobe light within 1/100 of a second after it receives a sound. He hopes to use this equipment with a camera to record pictorially the impact of a bullet with a pane of glass.

John lives with his mother, Mrs. Patty Rostoni, his 13-year-old sister, Sue, two poodles, one basset hound, one myna bird, three parakeets and one turtle.

In addition to his electronic tinkering, he also spends his spare time playing electric guitar with the Black Orchids, a combo which includes drummer John Skinner of San Rafael High School and guitarists Dave Worswick and Lee Faustine of Terra Linda High School.

John's first love, though, is quite obviously the tubes, transistors, circuits and other material with which he contrives to build new equipment and rebuild old radios that fall into his grasp.

He got interested in electronics, he says, about three years ago when his friend Worswick began to repair radios and television sets. Within half a year they had acquired a large solar mirror from the surplus stock of an East Bay shop.

They hooked the mirror to some thermoelectric equipment to convert the solar heat to energy. Using an auto converter to amplify the tiny amount of energy thus obtained, the boys worked a portable eight-inch, 83-channel television set, a small burglar alarm and some other things.

The burglar alarm contained an old mechanical dialing selector which John's father, John A. Rostoni of 107 Corrillo Drive, Rafael Meadows, obtained from the telephone company, where he works.

John plans within the next year to build an FM transmitter and acquire a ham radio operator's license, after which he wants to build a ham transmitter and receiver.

He has maintained about a 3.4 grade point average at San Rafael High and hopes to attend the University of California at Berkeley. This will necessitate a scholarship, however, so John has "retired" from athletic activity to concentrate on his studies. He was on the track team as a freshman.

John says that the greatest obstacle in his electronic endeavors is the cost of materials. He has managed to overcome this partially by dismantling old television sets for parts and by earning money mowing lawns and washing cars.

Eventually he hopes to work with an electronics firm as an electrical engineer. With the aptitude and determination he has shown thus far, the odds certainly are in his favor.

Assessments Boost Eases Tax Rate Bite

The assessed valuation of Marin County this fiscal year is $377,770,860, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell revealed today after a weekend of work, adjusting for changes made by the board of supervisors in protest hearings.

He said the board had cut less than he had thought, $562,760, from the roll while sitting as a board of equalization, but that nearly all of the cuts had come in three school districts, Sausalito, West Marin and Bolinas-Stinson Union.

The total county value increased 13.5 per cent over last year, Mitchell added, saying that the total included $326,190,830 on the secured roll, $19,198,680 unsecured and $32,381,350 in public utilities.

He added that the estimate of the county tax rate dropped a half cent to $2.295 per $100 assessed valuation, thanks to the valuation increase. That figure is four cents above last year's rate for the county.

The major increases within the county came, as expected, in the south, where Assessor Bert W. Broemmel made reassessments of values this year.

Listed below are assessed valuations for this year, followed by those for last year, for the 10 cities in the county which were in existence at the time of the lien date, the first Monday in March:

Belvedere, $8,400,690, $8,018,320; Corte Madera, $14,845,110, $13,923,380; Fairfax, $9,983,230, $9,542,400; Larkspur, $14,943,240, $13,547,770; Mill Valley, $22,373,480, $21,533,800; Novato, $30,571,120, $24,982,760; Ross, $8,187,020, $7,117,120; San Anselmo, $20,468,620, $19,484,720; San Rafael, $83,544,640, $74,184,430, and Sausali-

Still Growing— 182,000 People Live In Marin

Marin County showed the second largest population growth, percentagewise, of any Bay Area county in the past fiscal year, according to statistics from the State Finance Department.

With a gain of 8,000 persons in the 12 months ending July 1, Marin's population swelled 4.6 per cent to an estimated total of 182,000, it was reported. Santa Clara County gained 5.6 per cent.

Statewide, the gain was 564,000 persons, with Los Angeles, Orange and Ventura counties leading the pace.

Alameda County passed the million-mark with a gain of 24,200. Napa County was up 2,100 persons or 2.9 per cent, and Sonoma gained 6,000 for a 3.6 per cent increase.

Driver Killed As Wind Flips Car On Waldo

A 32-year-old Corte Madera man was killed when his small car went out of control in a gust of wind and flipped over on Waldo Grade at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Erhard Arwed Grimmert of 363 Chapman Drive, a service advisor for Atlas Motors in San Francisco, was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital.

His death was the 28th on Marin highways this year. At this time last year the death toll was 20.

Grimmert, a resident of Marin for two years, came here from Oldenburg, Germany, to work for the car agency. It is a Volkswagen distributorship. Grimmert was driving a 1956 Volkswagen.

The California Highway Patrol said Grimmert's car apparently was caught by a gust of wind as it went into a curve while travelling north at about 70 miles per hour.

A witness, Donald Ingram of 446 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito, told the patrol Grimmert's car passed his, then slid broadside about 100 feet ahead, going end over end as it left the right side of the roadway.

The patrol said the small auto

Overpass Death-Site Head-On Injures Three

Three persons were injured at 11 a.m. today when two cars collided head-on at the south end of the Highway 101 overpass in San Rafael. (See photo, page 4).

Driver Phillip Spataro, 64, Woodacre, reported he was northbound in the "slow" lane of the highway when the power steering mechanism on his car went out.

The car swerved from the right hand lane, headed toward the opposite side of the road, jumped a six-inch high concrete divider strip and collided head-on with a southbound car.

The driver of the other car was Phillip L. Childers, 69, Forestville, Sonoma County, who was driving in the "fast" lane southbound when the collision occurred, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Letha Childers, 64, wife of the driver, was being treated at San Rafael General Hospital for facial cuts. Childers suffered bruises and cuts on the legs and right arm. Spataro incurred hip and shoulder bruises and head cuts, highway patrolmen reported.

The accident backed up traffic for several miles in both directions on Highway 101. The crash was near the scene of an accident in which six persons were killed last June.

Rusk Warns Demo Group Against 'Cinder Pile' Trend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the 1964 democratic platform hearings today with a warning against "reckless deeds or words" in foreign policy which he said could reduce the world to "a cinder pile."

The issues of militancy versus caution in foreign affairs and control of nuclear weapons rapidly came to the forefront as the 106-member committee opened hearings to draft a platform for the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., one week from today.

As the hearings opened the national committee temporarily refused to seat delegates from Mississippi, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands because of challenges to their credentials. The all-white Mississippi group is under a challenge from a Negro "Freedom Democratic Party."

Adlai E. Stevenson, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations called for a platform with a strong committment to the United Nations, which he called "an indispensable instrument of peaceful change in a rapidly changing world."

Stevenson said that since the U. N.'s inception U. S. support for it has been bi-partisan. But, presumably in reference to Sen. Goldwater's views, Stevenson added "this year we cannot be so sure."

This year's Republican platform, Stevenson said, "appears to be far less explicit in its endorsement of the U. N. than previous Republican platforms have been."

The American Medical Association (AMA) urged that the party platform reject proposals for a federal medicare system.

Kennedy Huddles With N.Y. Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy conferred for almost an hour with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today but announced no decision about entering the race for the U. S. Senate from New York.

He left for Washington saying he did not know when he would make known his plans.

The attorney general said last week that he would not seek the Democratic nomination here without the open approval of Wagner.

"I have nothing to add to what I've said before," Kennedy remarked as he left the conference.

JOHNSON'S GIRLS ON VOTE TRAIL

Lodge Visiting Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. Ambassador to South Vietnam, explained American policy on southeast Asia today in "thorough and frank" talks with French officials. Lodge was sent to Europe by President Johnson to counteract French President Charles de Gaulle's demands for the neutralization of all southeast Asia. Paris is the first stop on Lodge's tour of nine European capitals.

Firefighters Making Gains Against Big Nevada Blazes

ELKO, Nev. (AP)—Firefighters appeared today to be winning a battle with four large northeastern Nevada range fires which scorched an estimated 170,000 acres of grassland sagebrush.

A Bureau of Land Management official said three of the blazes were largely controlled overnight. But at last report, a 51,000-acre fire still burned out of control in the rugged, hard-to-reach Boulder Creek area northwest of Elko.

About 900 men were on the fire lines today and 150 more were waiting in Elko to be dispatched.

A half dozen other major blazes burned an additional 13,000 across in northern and central Nevada Saturday and yesterday. Most were set when a series of lightning-charged thunderstorms crossed the state Saturday.

A Boise, Idaho, pilot was killed yesterday when his plane crashed 20 miles north of Elko. He was returning to Boise after flying a group of firefighters to Elko, seat of a vast cattle and sheep ranching area. Two Elko County ranchers were hospitalized with serious burns suffered as they tried to build a fire line with a bulldozer.

Clair Whitlock, Bureau of Land Management district director, said he hoped all four big fires could be controlled today.

"We feel we may be getting on top of the situation. We feel we have adequate men and equipment now to handle anything that might happen unless we get high winds or some unforeseen situations," Whitlock said.

LBJ Voices Hope For Space Peace With UN Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has voiced the hope all nations will join "to place the peaceful realms of space off-limits to the designs of aggressors on earth."

This hope, and the suggestion that it be accomplished through the United Nations, was contained in a statement yesterday announcing he was sending to leaders of 110 nations photographs of the moon taken by cameras of Ranger 7 before it hit the moon July 31.

He said he was sending the pictures in the name of the people of the United States as an expression of the desire that human knowledge be used for human betterment.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Lynch Follows Pat's Footsteps

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—San Francisco Dist. Atty. Thomas Connor Lynch was appointed California attorney general yesterday by his old friend and political associate, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Lynch

Brown termed the 60-year-old Lynch "one of the most able and respected law enforcement officers in the United States."

Brown and Lynch have been associates for many years. From 1943 until 1951, Lynch was chief assistant under Brown, who was then San Francisco district attorney.

An active Democrat, Lynch later served as northern California chairman for both of Brown's gubernatorial campaigns. He is vice chairman of the statewide drive to elect President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Viet Strong Man Stronger

SAIGON, Vietnam (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh had himself elected president yesterday by South Vietnam's military junta and assumed near-dictatorial power to pursue the U.S.-supported war against the communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Van Minh

Today the government announced that all cabinet members, civilian and military, had submitted their resignations to Khanh, while remaining on the job at his pleasure.

This gave Khanh a free hand to weed out ministers suspected of nautralist leanings when he forms his new "war cabinet."

Khanh, 36, vacated the premiership to step up to the presidency. The premiership was abolished. Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, chief of state since Khanh ousted him from actual power last Jan. 30, was shunted aside to an "advisory" job.

New York Senate Pot Boiling

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of upstate Amsterdam has formally announced for Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate amid more declarations of support for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the nomination.

Stratton

Kennedy is reported to have the backing of party leaders in counties which have well over a majority of the 1,144 votes in the Democratic state convention here Sept. 1.

Stratton said in his announcement yesterday that nominating Kennedy wiuld give the Republicans a "million-dollar issue" for the campaign.

This was a reference to the fact that Kennedy lives in Virginia and maintains a voting residence in his native Massachusetts.

Divinity Student Held In Killings

CHULA VISTA (AP)—A young divinity student was held today in the fatal beatings of his parents and a younger brother and sister.

Goedecke

Roymand Goedecke, 18, was booked on suspicion of murdering his landscap architect father, Henry, 42; his mother, Joan, 39; his sister, Ellen, 15, and brother, Mark, 8.

The boy told police he had grown to hate his father because repeated scoldings over his poor grades at Lutheran Concordia College in Oakland last year.

The youth left a Lutheran camp near here and drove home Friday. He killed his father in bed with a steel rod and stabbed him more than 20 times. Then he killed his mother, brother and sister as they awakened.

Chicago Police Battle Rioters

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than 1,000 rioting Negroes hurled chunks of concrete at white motorists and defied police in suburban Dixmoor last night and early today until they were driven back by tear gas and fire hoses.

The uproar started over a bottle of gin. Before it was over, at least two persons were shot, close to 60 were injured, 31 were arrested, two buildings — both believed unoccupied — were set on fire, stores were looted, and cars were overturned.

County police wearing white crash helmets and with orders to fire if fired upon patrolled the largely Negro south suburban community in the aftermath of the riot. On the surface, the trouble seemed over. Workingmen went peaceably to their jobs, walking over the broken glass left by last night's fighting and past strategically-placed patrol cars.

The trouble in Dixmoor started Saturday when Mike Lapota, white owner of the Foremost Liquor Store, accused a Negro woman of trying to sneak off with a bottle of gin. The woman charged Lapota slapped her. That was the spark which set off the summer's first major racial violence in the Chicago area, the nation's second largest Negro population center.

At the riot's height, Capt. Tom Henry of the Cook County sheriff's police estimated from 1,000 to 2,000 Negroes were involved in the melee swirling about the liquor store. Against them were matched slightly more than 200 state, county and town policemen, along with firemen from Dixmoor and surrounding communities.

The police used all-out measures. Volleys of tear gas shells were fired. A flying wedge of policemen led by a squad car surged over a vacant lot to enter a housing development. Sgt. Clarence Bachar of the nearby Harvey, Ill., police, which took part in the operation, said that at one point firemen turned their hoses on the crowd and that warning shots were fired in the air.

Chained police dogs were brought to the area, but were not used on the crowds.

The two shooting cases appeared to be accidental. Lowell Smith, 39, a Negro, was shot in the right forearm, apparently by a spent bullet. Another man was wounded on the finger.

In the riot's aftermath, Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie ordered his men to "fire back at anyone who fires on you."

Studio Busiest When Phone Rings

Ever visit our KTIM studios on the third floor of the Independent-Journal Building? . . . The last time we sent out a formal invitation was to the BOY SCOUTS through TORCHY DUNN. Seems the local troops were engaged in a "communications" project, and after several inquiries from den mothers we decided to set aside an hour or so for the boys to drop by and look around. . . .

WE SET THE TIME at 7 p.m., put out a few pamphlets for souvenirs, and expected maybe a hundred boys to show up. At 6:30 the line had backed up around the corner of the building and it stayed there all evening. . . . Instead of 100 we ended up with over a thousand. . . .

BUT ABOUT casually dropping by—we're happy to see you. Not that our staff gets lonesome—it's the hustlingest crew on any radio station anywhere. You'd be amazed at all the paperwork we have. Sometimes when you phone us and the office is closed, and the phone rings and rings—well, we hope you'll understand our problem. . . .

THE OFFICE is not open Saturday after 12 noon. And if you phone during a news broadcast we don't answer at all. . . . Now take our boss—he phones ever so often when one of us is alone—and for some reason always seems to time it on the hour or half-hour—right during station break. Maybe you can figure it out—we can't!

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mill Valley City Aides Ask Raises

Representatives of the Mill Valley Employees Assn. told a city council subcommittee Saturday it believes the recent salary and pay survey made by the State Cooperative Personnel Service is a "good yardstick to go by" but that more consideration should be given the high cost of living in the city.

There are certain inequities in the survey regarding a few employees, reported police lieut. William Walsh, president, which the association believes should be presented by department heads to City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer for Balmer's recommendation to council.

Master Plan Wins Support In Kentfield

The Kentfield Civic League today approved the Kentfield general plan prepared by the county planning department with one exception, the proposed extension of Wolfe Grade Road to Bon Air Bridge.

Allen G. Wright, league president, presented the league's letter of support at a one-hour hearing before the Marin County Planning Commission today.

The one area of the plan that met with unanimous disapproval of the league was the extension of Wolfe Grade Road, Wright reported.

"WORSE PROBLEM"

"We all feel that instead of solving an existing problem, this would serve to create a worse problem than now exists."

Extension of Wolfe Grade Road also was opposed by Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health director, who lives along the road.

The extension would increase traffic and increase the risk of major accidents along the road, Doctor Albrecht said.

The Kentfield Civic League supported the plan to consolidate the commercial activities at thei ntersection of College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and eliminate commercial property on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

OTHER PLANS

Other phases of the plan approved were the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the establishment of green areas for recreation along Corte Madera Creek in conjunction with the flood control project, eventual elimination of commercial property on the side of College Avenue from Kentfield Corners south, and flood control work in the Granton Park area.

The commission received a petition from seven residents of Granton Park urging that consideration be given to flood control before a tragedy occurs.

Park residents also urged the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard giving them better access to the boulevard and zoning changes that would permit duplex or triplex buildings.

In a letter, the Kentfield School District said traffic along College Avenue is a major problem that "reaches proportions of a traffic jam on rainy days."

"FRUSTRATING"

"Such conditions are dangerous to school children and extremely irritating and frustrating to adults," wrote Howard Harmon, superintendent of the Kentfield School District board.

The school, said the district "vigorously supports" the efforts of the county planners to solve the problem and suggested that College Avenue bet ransformed into a cul de sac with a mall type of access area, or a one-way street or a lightly traveled two-way street.

Planner David Van Pelt said the general plan does not indicate any major change in the residential areas, except in certain circumstances.

The major problems in Kentfield are traffic circulation and commercial areas, Van Pelt said.

The hearing was the first of two scheduled on the plan with the next scheduled for Sept. 31 at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Lengthy Agenda For Councilmen

Mill Valley Councilmen, who skipped the first meeting of the month because councilmen were on vacation, will face a tall agenda at their meeting at 8 p.m. today.

They will hear the draft of a proposed community antenna television licensing ordinance and discuss a policy on the use of the city ambulance. The council will discuss a resolution to approve and adopt a classification and pay plan and establishing salaries for fiscal year 1964-65 and hear an employees request for changes in fringe benefits.

It will hold a hearing to rezone Buena Vista Avenue, Hill and Sunnyside streets from a multiple dwelling area with no set square footage category to multiplemultiple with lots at 2,500 square feet per unit.

ELMER EARL SHAFER
San Quentin teacher

OBITUARIES

E. E. Shafer, Convicts' Tutor Dies

Elmer Earl Shafer, 64, of Vacaville, former teacher at San Quentin Prison, died in a Vallejo hospital Saturday after a short illness.

Shafer, who lived in Woodacre until his retirement a year ago, taught inmates at the prison since 1946.

He explained that his own difficulties in getting through school helped him in understanding the difficulties of learning and was a particular asset for his prison job.

Shafer was a native of Oklahoma. He moved with his family to Washington State while still a boy. There he was stricken with polio. This and the need to quit the eighth grade later to help his father work a farm put high school off for Shafer until he was 22.

He eventually graduated from Washington State and began teaching. He was assistant superintendent of the Washington State Training School before coming to Marin.

He was a member of Whitman Masonic Lodge 49 of Pullman, Wash., and San Rafael Chapter 215 of the Order of Eastern Star.

He leaves his wife, Frances M. Shafer of Vacaville; two daughters, Ann Collins of Novato and Sharon Santino of Poway, San Diego County; three sisters, Zella Cranor of South Coffeyville, Okla., Hazel Hines of San Rafael and Thelma Meeker of Plainsville, N.J.; three brothers, Shannon B. Shafer of Phoenix, Ariz., Guy J. Shafer of Sherwood, Ore. and Chester L. Shafer of Sacramento, and 11 grand children.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary with Marin Masonic Lodge 191 officiating. Inurnment will be private.

Anti-Barry Students Have 'Sit-In'

Four Tamalpais High School students conducted a sit-in, lie-in Saturday on the sidewalk before the Town Hall for Goldwater headquarters in Sausalito, A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., a spokesman for the headquarters said today.

"They were making nuisances of themselves," said Bjorklund. "They had some paper and wrote out some anti-Goldwater nonsense on pieces of paper. They were singing and yelling and blocked pedestrian traffic."

Asked what was written on the papers, Bjorklund replied, "it is unprintable."

He added that he is going to see the police chief today to see what can be done about it and, he continued, "We are in the process of getting names of the youths, three of whom were whites and one a Negro."

The demonstration before the headquarters at 815 Bridgeway, lasted from about 2:30 to 4 p.m., said Bjorklund. Hours at the headquarters are from 2 to 4 p.m.

Phone Company Seeks Building

The Belvedere Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Community Hall to consider plans for an addition on the Pacific Telephone Co. building and subdivision of a parcel of residential land.

The telephone company is asking for approval of elevation drawings and parking provisions for an addition to the building at 7 Beach Road.

Novato Slates Extra Session

Special meeting of the Novato city council will be held at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow to consider further action on a permit granted by the city planning commission for excavation in the Scottsdale master plan area.

The special session will precede the regular council meeting at 8 p.m. in the Novato Community House, 906 Machin Avenue, Robert B. Lagle, planning director, said today.

Last week the council directed the planners to hold a special hearing to reconsider its approval of the permit. Lagel said the council had decided to discuss the permit at tomorrow's meeting.

R. W. DAVENPORT

Retired M/Sgt. Richard Wayne Davenport, 58, of 1624 Novato Boulevard, Novato, died in his home yesterday after a long illness.

A native of Hillsboro, Ill., he lived in Novato for 16 years. He retired from the Air Force in 1949 and had worked as a bartender at Club Rio in Novato until last year.

He was a member of Lloyd A. Hamilton Post 540, American Legion and the Bartender and Culinary Workers Union.

Surviving are his wife, Celia; a sister, Mrs. Mae Fulton of Shelby, Mont., and a brother, Ralph Davenport, of Hillsboro, Ill.

Funeral will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Redwood Chapel, Novato. Memorial services will be held by members of Lloyd A. Hamilton Post at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the mortuary. Burial will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

NEILS PAULSEN

Neils Paulsen, 92, died at the Aldersly Danish Old People's Home, 326 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, last night after a short illness.

Paulsen received widespread publicity in September, 1959, when he inherited $425,000 from two nephews, one of whom was murdered, in Spokane, Wash.

Of his sudden windfall, Paulsen declared "I don't need all that money." After this was quoted in news articles, he received 5,000 letters from persons who hoped he might give some of it to them.

He later donated much of it to the home, where he lived since 1955, and to charities.

A native of Denmark, he came to this country in 1888. After learning the printing trade in Portland, Ore., he went into the restaurant business in Spokane. Later, he became a county official there, and was deputy county clerk for 39 years, coming here after his retirement in 1950.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Samuel Rivas of Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Hazen-Jaeger Funeral Home in Spokane, where services will be conducted by the American Lodge 52 of Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

JULIUS PETERSEN

Funeral for Julius Peter Petersen, 62, of 720 Orange Avenue, Novato, who died in his home Friday, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Redwood Chapel in Novato.

Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael. Memorial services will be held by the Novato Grove of Druids at 8 p.m. today at the funeral home. Contributions to the heart fund are preferred by the family.

H. S. GHISLETTA

Requiem mass for Harold S. Ghisletta of Petaluma, longtime Marin County dairyman, will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Vincent's Church, Petaluma.

Ghisletta, 48, died Friday at a Petaluma hospital after two weeks' illness.

A native of Petaluma, he long operated his own dairy on Chileno Valley Road in Marin. He sold the ranch two years ago and moved to Petaluma.

He was a member of the Marin County Farm Bureau.

Surviving are his wife, Annie Ghisletta; a son, Harold Ghisletta Jr., five daughters, Mrs. R. Renatti, Louise, Haroldine, Annette and Kathy Ghisletta, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Ghisletta, all of Petaluma, two sisters, Mrs. Lorraine McCorvey of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Grace Goldbeck of Petaluma, and two step-sisters, Mrs. Joseph Betta of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Isolena Maestretti of Petaluma.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Petaluma. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

JOHN J. SHEEHAN

John J. Sheehan, 55, of 294 The Alameda, San Anselmo, died yesterday following a long illness.

He was traffic manager of C. C. Moore Engineers in San Francisco.

Sheehan was born April 28, 1909, in Rock Island Ill. He came to San Francisco, then moved to San Anselmo eight years ago with his family. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Sheehan is survived by his wife, Lucille Sheehan; and by three daughters, Mrs. Mary Farr, Walnut Creek, and by Ann and Kathleen, at home. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Peter of San Francisco; two brothers, Russell Sheehan in Illinois and Richard Sheehan in San Francisco; and a sister, Mrs. Florence Conway, San Francisco.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Keaton Chapel, San Rafael. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. at St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church, Fairfax. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

META SCHUBERT

Mrs. Meta A. Schubert, 69, of 328 B Street, Sausalito, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Schubert was born in Michigan. She and her husband formerly owned a beauty school in Milwaukee, Wisc. They came to Sausalito four years ago after their retirement.

She is survived by her husband, Alvin W. Schubert in Sausalito; by three sisters, Mrs. Edith Rothman, San Jose, Miss L. Theurkauf, Sausalito, and Mrs. Erna Law, Pitsburg, Calif. Also surviving are two brothers, William Theurkauf, San Jose, and Rudolph Theurkauf, Sausalito.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Mount Tamalpais Mausoleum Chapel, San Rafael. Friends may call at the Keaton Mortuary until 2 p.m. tomorrow. Entombment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

TILLIE GIANOLI

Private services for Tillie Gianoli of 15 Tamal Vista Drive, San Rafael, a 13-year resident of Marin County, will be held tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Gianoli, a native of St. Louis, Mo., died in a local hospital Saturday after a brief illness. She was 63 years old.

She was the wife of Anthony Gianoli, a carpenter. In addition to him, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Norma Pressley, and a son, R. F. Gianoli, both of Ukiah. She also leaves five grandchildren.

JANET M. KEEGAN

Private graveside services were held Friday for Janet Marie Keegan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Keegan of Cotati and formerly of Mill Valley. The child, 13 hours old, died Thursday in a San Francisco hospital.

Funeral was at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael, under direction of Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Roger Kent Again Heads Up Demos

By WAT TAKESHITA

Roger Kent of Kentfield took over the reins of the state Democratic Central Committee yesterday with a hard-hitting attack on John Birchers, "Goldwater extremism", and supporters of the initiative to repeal the Rumford Act and other housing laws.

Kent was elected by acclamation to the chairmanship of the state central committee in the Assembly chambers of the state Capitol. This is Kent's third term as chairman. He has also served three times as vice chairman.

Two other Marin residents who played prominent roles during the weekend convention were Elizabeth Gatov of Kentfield and Vera Schultz of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Gatov, national committeewoman, presided during the nomination and election of Kent. She is also in charge of making arrangements for the California delegation at the Atlantic City national convention next week.

Mrs. Schultz was one of 38 presidential electors chosen from California.

Kent spoke in defense of the Rumford Act and other fair housing laws and lashed out at Proposition 14, which would nullify the housing laws.

"Proposition 14 is an invitation to Jim Crow," said Kent. "It is dirty racism. It is John Birch and yes, Goldwater extremism . . . This is not an isolated issue. It is part and parcel of a national campaign by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards to destroy fair housing laws all over the nation."

"Behind this campaign are the Goldwater forces of the right," Kent declared. "The John Birchers, the right wing Republicans and every reactionary group of the state and nation."

Passage of Proposition 14 would give "absolute discretion to discriminate, absolute discretion to segregate, and absolute discretion to tell a Catholic, a Jew, a Negro, a Chinese or a Japanese-American that 'you cannot buy this home; you cannot live here'," said Kent.

The Marin Democrat charged that William K. Shearer, the Southern California public relations director for Proposition 14, also writes the dogmas of the White Citizens Council.

'Proposition 14 speaks with the same voice as the voice of the White Citizens Council, a vicious racist organization which has helped make Mississippi a center of violent hate," Kent said.

'Proposition 14 would legalize bigotry and expose California to the violence of Mississippi. It must be beaten."

Pistol, $10 In Cash Taken From Home

A pistol and $10 in cash were taken from the home of Herbert J. Harris of 10 Glenside Way, Los Ranchitos, while his family was vacationing on the Russian River last week, he told the sheriff's office.

Deputies said an unknown object was hurled with force through a window to gain entry. Glass was found 25 feet from the window in the house.

State Convention Raps All-White Delegation

California Democrats yesterday gave thundering approval to the seating of the Freedom Democratic Party delegates from Mississippi at the National Democratic Convention and the ousting of the all-white Democratic Party and delegates from that state.

The voice vote to support the Freedom delegates came on one of 31 resolutions adopted by the Democratic convention in Sacramento yesterday.

Republican nominee Barry Goldwater and "extremists" also took a tongue-lashing from Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who delivered the keynote address.

"Do we want a man who shoots from the lip . . . a man who reacts emotionally . . . a man who thinks nearly every problem has a simple bad guys and good guys answer just like the horse operas we seen on television?" asked Humphrey.

"I can tell you now in loud and clear terms that the Democrtic Party won't hedge or hem and haw with cute tricky answers or any delayed responses when asked if we would accept the support of the Ku Klux Klan or the John Birch Society or the Communist Party or any other gang of extremists. We don't want them, we repudiate them, and we won't accept their support. It didn't take us several weeks to make up our minds!"

Humphrey declared that President Lyndon B. Johnson will carry on where John F. Kennedy left off.

A dramatic sidelight to the introduction of the Freedom Party resolution was introduction of two youths from Stanford, who had just returned from Mississippi where they served as freedom workers this summer.

The two are Chris Wilson, 19, of Santa Monica, and Bob Newbery, 19, of North Hollywood, both sophomores at Stanford University. Newbery is on the varsity football team at Stanford.

"We were yelled at several times but not physically harmed," said Newbery, who visited Clarksdale, Miss. Wilson was in Hattiesburg, Miss.

A resolution asking the Legislature to put a three-year moratorium on filling San Francisco Bay was introduced by Democratic nominee for Assebly, James E. Pockrus of Rohnert Park and Richard Persoff of Corte Madera. This resolution was passed by acclamation.

Wheel Breaks Off, Car Skids 144 Feet

The right front wheel on a car driven by Ben Kriens, 62, of Cotati broke off yesterday at 2:40 p.m. forcing his vehicle to skid 144 feet along a dirt ditch by the side of Highway 101, one-fourth mile south of Lucas Valley Road.

Kriens was in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut over his left eye. He was southbound on the highway, according to the California Highway Patrol.

There will be 95 million passenger cars registered in the nation by 1976 compared with about 68 million today, the American Automobile Association forecasts.

Five Hurt When Two Cars Collide

Five persons were injured yesterday in a two-car accident on Highway 101 just north of the San Pedro Road undercrossing when one car made an unsafe lane change, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Cars driven by Felix Warner Hall, 61, of San Francisco, and James Barkhurst Trimble, 41, of 4077 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, were southbound on the highway when Trimble's car swerved into the car driven by Hall. Trimble was cited for an unsafe lane change.

Hall and the passengers in his car were treated at Marin General Hospital. Hall suffered a bruised chest. Treated for bruised backs were Ethel Hall, 62, and Henrietta Holmes, 70, both of San Francisco.

Trimble was in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital with bruises and a bumped head. His wife was also treated for bruises at the hospital.

Fall Victim Treated

Louis Salame, 52, of 3 Currey Avenue, Sausalito, was treated for a head cut at Marin General Hospital at 12:35 a.m. today after he fell at his home. He was treated and released.

Girl, 15, Rules Over Novato's Pool Fiesta

Cynthia Anne Hibbert, 15-year-old daughter of Col. and Mrs. Chester A. Hibbert of 71 Lambert Way, Novato, reigned over the dedication of the Novato Swimming Pool yesterday afternoon.

She was crowned Miss Teenaged Novato at a teen club masquerade ball Saturday night at Novato High School. The dance was attended by about 100 couples, according to E. O. Mahaney, director of parks and recreation.

Judging of the queen contest took place after a back-to-school fashion show Saturday afternoon in the high school cafeteria in which Miss Hibbert and seven other contestants modeled apparel.

The contestants were Kris Craig, 16, of 39 Shields Lane; Linda Lue Bradshaw, 16, of 330 Grandview Avenue; Carol Judi Groves, 17, of 837 Atherton Avenue; Cindi Lou Heape, 14, of 1563 Buchanan Street; Ruth G. Menges, 17, of 1431 Cambridge Street; Vicki Lee Rausch, 18, of 62 Buena Vista, and Carol Louise Rowell, 18, of 1523 Buchanan Street, all of Novato.

Passenger's Mouth Bruised In Wreck

Mrs. Coris Francis Bottrell, 49, of Sebastopol was treated for a bruised mouth last night at San Rafael General Hospital after the car she was riding in hit a utility pole on the connector road from the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge to Highway 101 at 9:40 p.m.

Her husband, James, was driving the car northbound when it veered out of control on a curve and hit the utility pole on the east side of the highway, according to the California Highway Patrol.

San Jose Trustees In Special Meeting

The San Jose School District Board held a special session Saturday to pass a resolution to place the proposed unification of the San Jose and Novato Unified School Districts on the Nov. 3 general election ballot.

Trustees of the Novato district are expected to pass a similar resolution tonight.

Kentfield Woman Hurt As Car Rolls, Lands In Slough

Mrs. Earle M. Young of 11 Madrone Avenue, Kentfield, is recovering in Marin General Hospital from severe injuries suffered last Wednesday evening when her car overturned on Sears Point cutoff four miles west of Vallejo.

She suffered a fractured pelvis and injury to her lower back and may be confined in the hospital for "three weeks to a month," he husband, Dr. Young, reported this morning.

Dr. Young, retired dentist and president of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. in San Anselmo, escaped with a sprained shoulder but no fractures.

Mrs. Young was driving the car, with the doctor as passenger, when a car swerved in front of her about 5:45 p.m. To avoid the car, Mrs. Young swerved and their car toppled into a ditch, rolling over twice.

"We had just put on our seat belts about five minutes before the accident," Dr. Young recalled. The impact knocked him unconscious. "When I came to and tried to breath, I got oily muck into my nostrils," Dr. Young related. "I was hanging upside down, completely submurged in oily mud." He was able to crawl out of the mud and help Mrs. Young.

She was taken to Vallejo Hospital and transferred to Marin General Saturday.

Police Catch Theft Suspect

A 19-year-old San Francisco man was chased, then captured under an automobile early today in Sausalito after police officer Ernest Brown found the man and another tampering with a 1964 Chevrolet parked at 174 Harrison Avenue.

Dan Pennisi, who was placed in county jail on charges of petty theft and tampering with a vehicle, reportedly told Brown he was "out of money" and needed parts for his car.

Brown, on patrol at 2:15 a.m., found Pennisi and the other man beside the car. On his approach, the car door was slammed and the men ran, Brown said. One man escaped but Brown caught Pennisi at 155 Harrison Avenue hiding under another car.

By 1729 some 14 types of submarines had been patented in England and many more in other Eupropean countries.

Democrats Adopt Series Of Resolutions On Issues

Here are some of the major resolutions passed by the California Democrats yesterday:

MISSISSIPPI—Asks the California delegation to take all appropriate action to seat the Freedom Democratic Party instead of the regular Mississippi delegates at Atlantic City.

GOLDWATER—He "does not offer any choice but that of intolerance and reaction to the progressive leadership" of President Johnson and the Democratic Party.

LOTTERY — Asks voters to turn down Proposition 16, the lottery amendment "so that citizens will not be faced with heavier tax loads in order that a few promoters may grow wealthy."

THE FAR RIGHT — "Condemns the open solicitation of extremist support by the Republican Party" and urges Republican leaders "to reconsider their alliance with extremist groups."

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL — The measure "stands as a tribute to the memory of President Kennedy and to the diligent work . . . by President Johnson." Pledges full support to President Johnson in the implementation of the act.

FEATHERBEDDING — Opposes Proposition 17, the so-called anti-featherbedding initiative dealing with the employment of freight train crews.

SCHOOL BONDS — Supports Propositions 2 and 3, the school bond issues on the Nov. 3 ballot.

CLEMENCY—Asks Governor Brown to consider executive clemency to civil rights workers arrested in San Francisco demonstrations.

VOTERS RIGHTS—Asks President Johnson to use necessary federal resources to protect citizens in the South who are trying to help Negroes register to vote.

INTEGRATION — Urges Department of Justice to protect families of children who will be integrating Mississippi schools.

BAY FILL—Asks Legislature to put three-year moratorium on the filling of San Francisco Bay.

Road Race Club Seeks Location

A newly formed Marin group is seeking a spot on which to build a road racing course.

Known as Marin Auto Racing Associates (MARA), the nonprofit group is headed by Dr. Miron W. Neal of Kentfield.

Doctor Neal said the group plans to aid several Marin County charity groups with proceeds from races.

Judge Brusatori In Satisfactory Condition

N. Charles Brusatori, a Marin Superior Court judge, remained in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after suffering a coronary occlusion last week.

The judge entered the hospital Aug. 9.

Record Star Drowns

LAKEPORT (UPI)—Rock 'n' roll singer Johnny Burnette was killed in a weekend boating accident at Clear Lake. The 30-year-old singer, from Pacoima, vanished Friday night in lake waters when another vessel struck his small boat and capsized it.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Prisoner Stabbed In Chest

A 31-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate was stabbed in the chest just before 1 p.m. Saturday in the prison's upper yard.

Thomas J. Mahoney, who has been in the prison off and on since 1955 on second degree burglary convictions and parole violations, was in satisfactory condition yesterday in the prison hospital.

Associate Warden Robert C. Loriano said officials had "developed some leads" in the case, although no weapon had been found and Mahoney refused to give any information about his assailant or the reason for the attack.

Guards first knew of the stabbing when Mahoney walked up to the officer on duty at the vehicle gate of the prison's lower yard. Investigating, guards found a trail of blood leading to the upper yard.

Mahoney suffered a puncture wound in the lower left chest, Loriano said.

The Marin County district attorney's office was expected to be brought into the investigation today.

Mahoney was paroled three times between January, 1957 and April, 1963, when his parole was suspended. He was placed in the prison's narcotic treatment control unit at that time.

Theft From Carport

A $40 carbon dioxide fire extinguisher was taken from the wall of a carport at 127 West End Avenue in San Rafael, apartment owner Stella Mindle told police Friday.

Matches Play Linked To Fires

Children playing with matches were believed the cause of three Marin County fires this weekend, and two young girls were suspected of pulling an alarm box in Sausalito Saturday.

First blaze was a grass and brush fire at 375 Sunset Trail, Novato, which burned two acres owned by Gordon Quilici at 3:37 p.m. Saturday.

At 5:20 p.m., Marinwood firemen went to Mary Silveira School after the latest of several recent grass fires was reported on the playground there. Firemen found the small fire had been put out before they arrived.

A small boy whom firemen suspected had set the blaze was to be questioned today.

Two 4-year-old boys were blamed for starting a third blaze, which burned 75 by 30 feet of grass on property of Sol DeRae at 1804 Marion Avenue, Novato, at 11:35 a.m. yesterday.

The false alarm, from a box at Napa Street and Filbert Avenue, Sausalito, was believed turned in by two girls 8 or 9 years old, firemen said. Investigation was still underway today.

Ross Resident To Handle Gavel For Humane Society

Frederic D. Kerr of Ross has been elected president of the Marin County Humane Society.

Two San Rafael men, Walter R. Castro Jr and Paul R. Leahy, were added to the board of directors at the same meeting.

Other new officers are Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. of San Rafael, vice-president and Richard P. Gatterdam of Ross, treasurer.

Re-elected directors were George Blackwell of Mill Valley, James Grossi of Novato, Kerr, Mrs. Patrick W. Pollock of San Anselmo and Mrs. Carl Q. Riznik of Ross.

Humane Society Host To 14,000 Animals In Year

Marin County's Humane Society sheltered 14,000 animals, including 30 skunks, four turtles and one bat during the last year.

This was shown in the annual report given to members at the society's 57th annual meeting last week.

The report showed that, besides thousands of dogs and cats sheltered, the society housed 156 rats, 38 rabbits, 38 ducks and 30 chickens, as well as from one to 25 specimens of many other creatures.

Members also learned that the society's vehicles travelled 78,000 miles on nearly 6,000 ambulance calls to aid animals of which 250 were emergency cases.

Korea Meeting Due

Board members toured two sites last month, then authorized Sisk to conduct studies of engineering and other factors in those and a third piece of property.

Also scheduled are reports from the citizens committee for the schools and a study group of the same committee, and one by Fairfax recreation director Nyal Worsham on the proposed joint recreation program between the district and the city.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Central School.

Young Bike Rider Injured On Highway

A 14-year-old San Francisco boy was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday morning for facial scrapes suffered when he was struck by another San Franciscan's car while riding a bicycle on Highway 101 near Sausalito.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Michael A. Cardello, 19, hit bicyclist Robert Valle as both were northbound on the highway near Rodeo Avenue at 8:15 a.m. Saturday.

Large Audience Greets Annual Mozart Fete

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Yesterday afternoon's fourth annual Mozart Festival was the most successful to date with more than 800 nearly filling Stolte Grove in Homestead Valley to capacity.

Outstanding individual performances were those of soprano Carole Bogard singing Mozart numbers and baritone Edgar Jones in "Il Maestro di Cappella" by Cimarosa.

Miss Bogard, who has become a favorite with Marin audiences, never fails to delight with her beautifully trained and expressive voice and attractive appearance. The recitative "Ah Lo Previdi" and aria "Ah t' Invola Agl'occhi Miei" showed the skill in Melisma for which she is well known, and her concluding 'Nehmt Meinen Dank," Mozart's "Thank You" song expressed the mood perfectly.

In the highly entertaining "Il Maestro di Cappella," in which the maestro sings his instructions and reactions in an orchestra rehearsal, Jones revealed an unsuspected gift for dramatic comedy without sacrifice of his usual good vocal quality.

Contributing to the comic effect in the orchestra of some 20 musicians were the "sour horns" and exhuberant double bass.

In Haydn's "Sinfonie Concertante" for violin, cello, oboe and bassoon Everett O'Bannon's violin had a classic purity and sweetness of tone, and complementing it were Ray Duste's oboe, Ellen Dessler's cello and Robert Hughes' bassoon.

Oboist Duste, always worth watching for his complete absorption in the music, was notable in the "Divertimento No. 14 in B Major" while not detracting from the fine balance among the other instruments.

Verne Sellin conducted the orchestra smoothly and unobtrusively.

A moving in memoriam to the late Mrs. Winfred V. Stolte, whose generosity made the glen available for the concerts, was Debussy's "Syrinx for Unaccompanied Flute" played off stage preceding the concert.

The Homestead Valley Improvement Club is to be commended highly for its ingenuity and many hours of volunteer work necessary to bring this top quality music to Marin.

Vandals Paint Up Headquarters Of Barry's Backers

Vandals spray painted windows and the front door of the Town Hall for Goldwater headquarters in Mill Valley sometime early Sunday morning, police reported today.

Foot-high letters, in red spray paint, were lettered on the door at 17 East Blithedale Avenue reading: "for prejudice." Other painting with the same color paint covered portions of posters, attached to the windows inside, including pictures of the presidential candidate and the word "president" in a "Goldwater for President" sign.

Officer Herbert Aceret, who discovered the malicious mischief while on patrol, said the painting was done between 2:47 and 5:20 a.m.

Sickle Victim Treated

Sixteen-year-old Timothy Coffin of Mill Valley was taken to Marin General Hospital and treated for a cut on his right leg yesterday afternoon after he cut himself with a sickle while cutting grass at his home at 500 Tamalpais Avenue. He was released after treatment.

Beltway Opens Around Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—R new 65-mile beltway encircling the nation's capital is opened to traffic today.

The 189-million-dollar high-speed artery by-passes the traffic clot of the inner city and cuts through the sluggish crawl of the urban sprawl.

It is designed as a boon to distance travelers seeking to avoid involvement in the metropolitan morass.

It brings into closer relationship the business and social interests of the capital's satellite communities.

Motorcycle Stolen

William Rusk of Petaluma told sheriff's deputies his 1964 Honda motorcycle was stolen from a carport at 474 Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley, between 1 and 8 a.m. Saturday. He said the cycle was black with silver grey fenders, and had a luggage rack.

Toddler Injured By Automobile

A 4-year-old San Rafael girl suffered shoulder and arm bruises and a possible head injury when she was hit by a car near her home Saturday night.

Tami R. Clark of 35 Valencia Avenue was being held for observation today at San Rafael General Hospital.

San Rafael police said she was hit by a car driven by Dorothy V. O'Bayley of 11 Eucalyptus Lane, San Rafael.

Police said the child darted from behind a car in front of 24 Valencia Street and was struck at 7:14 p.m.

Police Rout Splashers In Mill Valley Pond

Five out-of-staters, four from New York and one from Oregon, were asked to leave Cascade Reservoir at 4:12 p.m. yesterday after they were found swimming there by Mill Valley Police Officers Robert V. Kinney and Rodney Sheran.

The youths, three men and two girls, told police they were visiting a friend in Mill Valley who said it was "O.K. to swim in the reservoir." Swimming is against the law in the city-owned pond.

Driver Injured By Redwood Collision

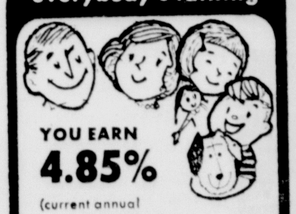

A 28-year-old San Francisco man was in good condition today in Marin General Hospital with a scraped face and cut left hand suffered when his car struck a redwood tree yesterday in Mill Valley.

The man, Jay Givens, was driving the car which overturned after striking the tree in the 1200 block of Miller Avenue at 12:10 a.m. yesterday.

Nowadays chores cost you less because your PG&E rates have gone down

Nearly everything has gone up in price these days—except your PG&E rates. In fact, there have been 3 gas and electric rate reductions in the past 3 years. Today the typical PG&E household customer pays less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. But count the things around your home that gas and electricity are doing for you and your family today. You are using 3 times as much as families did 30 years ago. So naturally, though the unit price is lower, your bill is bigger. Even so, you live better for less because PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

Photograph taken at 12,000 feet in the Alps, complete with famous St. Bernard dog and the Independent-Journal. There's no stimulant like having today's news today!

To the rescue... 800 I-J newspaperboys each day!

Each day, our young army of newspaperboys "rescues" 35,271 families from the perils of news hunger and isolation.

St. Bernards aren't in it! When planes or trains are grounded by weather, our boys get through. When cars tie up, our boys get through... carrying the world of news direct to your door. Which opens up new, exciting doors of information for you.

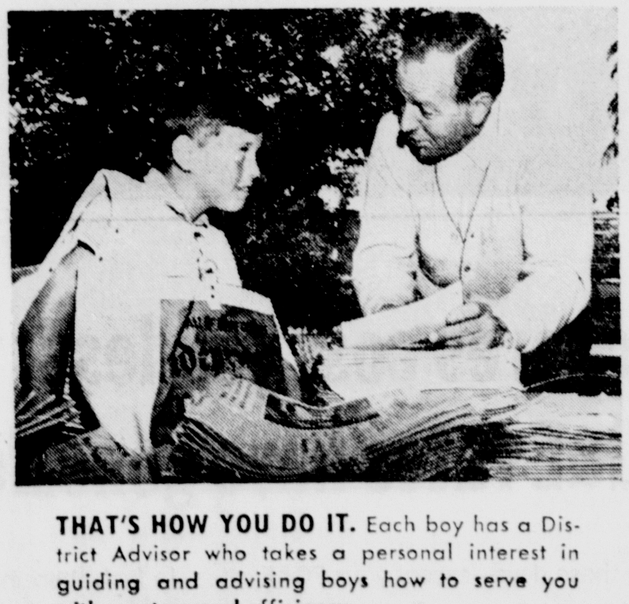

But they don't just FOLLOW a route. Through our INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL newspaperboy's program, our youngsters are trained in service and self-reliance. They learn the rewards of courtesy and punctuality... of managing a route and of managing themselves.

They learn to save. They make new friends. For doing the job well, they earn prizes, bonuses, trips, and a sense of accomplishment. Being boys, sometimes they miss the clock or the front porch. But day after day, they come through. They "deliver."

And all it costs to be "rescued" is $1.50 per month. Where else can you find such service?

Cypriots Joyful At Russ Arms Deal

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Buoyed by a pledge of Soviet support, Greek Cypriots are urging President Makarios to go to Moscow and negotiate an arms deal with the Russians.

Greek Cypriots of every political shade jubilantly greeted the Soviet Union's offer to help if Cyprus is invaded, and Soviet Premier Krushchev's warning to Turkey that an attack on Cyprus might boomerang.

The right-wing weekly Ethniki hailed the weekend developments as "a great turning point" for the Greek Cypriot cause. It even suggested that Makarios, a Greek Orthdox archbishop, bring Communists into his cabinet to show his gratitude. Other editorials called upon Makarios to fly immediately to Moscow.

There has been no official response to the Soviet. One report said Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou would leave for Moscow Friday to begin talks on military aid.

The U.N. peace effort suffered an unexpected setback when Finnish mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja suffered a mild stroke in Geneva Sunday a few hours befor his departure for another round of talks in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia.

There was speculation that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant would appoint a new mediator or take over Tuomioja's work himself. The Finnish diplomat had hoped to win acceptance of a compromise proposed by former U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, President Johnson's special Cyprus envoy.

Acheson has been meeting separately with Greek and Turkish representatives in Geneva. His plan calls for Cyprus' union with Greece and special safeguards for the Turkish Cypriot minority, including a Turkish military base on the island.

Tuomioja's illness comes as a particular blow because there were signs last week that Greece and Turkey might accept a solution along the Acheson lines, although there has been no approval from the Makarios government.

The Kremlin's stand is likely to make the Greek Cypriots even more intractable. The Soviet statement offered to begin aid talks immediately.

Lagunitas School Board Will Try To Select Sites

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District will try again tomorrow to reach a decision on which of four prospective sites to use for two new schools.

They postponed action last month until they could get an appraisal of the sites. Also sought was a legal opinion on whether the district could share facilities with the Woodacre Improvement Club if trustees chose one of the properties which is located next to the club.

The district needs one new school in the Forest Knolls area and another in the east end of the valley. Two sites in each area are under consideration.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Lagunitas School.

4 Hubcaps Stolen

Edward M. Long of Apt. 211, 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, told police Friday someone stole four hubcaps valued at $86 from his 1962 Corvair Thursday night, while it was parked in front of the Country Club Bowl, 88 Vivian Way, San Rafael.

Killer Thwarted On Wish To Die, Slays Once More

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Joseph B. Morse was to be taken before the San Diego County District Attorney today for arraigment in the bizarre killing of a fellow prisoner.

The body of Thomas Larry Taddei, 23, a former laborer from Boise, Idaho, was found Friday night outside Morse's cell. He had been strangled through the bars by a mattress-cloth noose.

Taddei, a jail trusty, had been serving a 120-day sentence for illegally soliciting alms while posing as a priest.

Sheriff Joseph O'Connor said there had been no bad blood between Taddei and Morse. So why was Taddei strangled?

"It could be assumed Morse killed again—so that this time he could get the death penalty," said O'Connor.

Morse was sentenced to death in 1962, after he was convicted of beating his widowed mother and crippled 12-year-old sister to death. He told police then: "I just felt like killing someone, and I didn't care who it was." He was ruled sane.

But the State Supreme Court ordered a new penalty trial, on grounds that the death sentence had been given because the jury had been warned he could be paroled if given a life sentence.

Before that trial, Morse, 20, expressed hope the death sentence would stand. "They'll send me to the gas chamber again. I know they will. I'd rather die than spend the rest of my life in prison," he told a newsman.

But last week the jury ruled in favor of life imprisonment. Morse, stunned, was returned to San Diego County Jail to await the formal sentence.

Car Hits Railing, Driver Injured

A 42-year-old Sausalito man received minor injuries when his car hit the divider strip on Highway 101 south of Marin City at 9:15 a.m. yesterday.

Leslie J. Vogt of Gate 6, Marinship, told the California Highway Patrol he glanced down to dust his trousers leg, then lost control of his southbound auto. It hit a guard rail and cut across other southbound lanes before hitting the divider.

Vogt said he would seek private treatment for his injuries.

Alpine Bus Tragedy Kills 17 French Children On Outing

BOURG ST. MAURICE, France (AP) — The death count rose to 17 today in an Alpine bus accident which turned a children's vacation outing into tragedy.

Doctors in the hospital of Bourg St. Maurice worked to save the lives of 16 others seriously injured when the bus went off the road yesterday and plunged 230 feet into a ravine.

The bus was carrying vacationing French youngsters from a shepherd's festival back to their camp at the summer resort at Seez near the Swiss frontier.

The driver, Armand Lothier, 51, who suffered severe injuries, told police he was forced off the road by an approaching car.

The bus crashed through a guard rail and landed upside down at the bottom of the ravine.

All the victims were French, many from the northern city of Arras.

Twenty youngsters who were aboard the bus belonged to an Arras society called "Youth and Joy."

Cadillac

THE WORLD'S FINEST USED CARS ARE BUILT BY CADILLAC.

To prove our point, we offer as evidence the three Cadillacs shown above.

From top to bottom in our illustration are a 1960 Sedan de Ville, a 1962 Coupe de Ville and a 1963 Sixty Special. Each is unmistakably Cadillac. Each, regardless of vintage, will have special appeal to the man who desires the comfort, convenience and pride of ownership that only Cadillac can offer.

That's why thousands of wise car buyers favor a previously owned Cadillac over new cars of other makes.

First of all, they realize that Cadillac engineering is so far advanced that "newness" becomes a relative term. In fact, there are features found on late model Cadillacs that are only now being offered on other cars. This is a major reason why a Cadillac retains its value through the years, from buyer to buyer.

Another thing to consider. Cadillac owners lavish the most meticulous care on the cars they are so proud to own. The "car of cars" almost always receives regular maintenance and servicing by highly skilled and carefully trained mechanics.

Your authorized Cadillac dealer's selection of one-owner models has never before been so appealing. And he can probably match one of these fine cars to your budget.

Who knows? Your used Cadillac could possibly be the "newest" car you've ever owned!

Who Is To Decide Route Of Cross-Marin Freeway?

When an east-west freeway is built across Marin along the route of Sir Francis Drake Highway from the Shoreline Highway (State Route 1) to the Redwood Highway (U.S. 101), should it extend from San Anselmo through Ross Valley to the Greenbrae interchange?

Or, should it extend along the Miracle Mile and swing just south of San Rafael's downtown shopping area to connect with 101 in the vicinity of Francisco Blvd. and Irwin St.?

This is the choice that state highway engineers have faced for sometime and they have wondered which route Marin would prefer.

"Some way, you people over there (in Marin) have got to make up your minds and let us know which way you want us to go," we have heard state engineers say.

Thus far, our professional planners seem to be making up our minds for us, whether we are aware of it or not.

In the recently unveiled West Marin master plan (which in some respects deals with matters far afield from West Marin) there seems to be at least a tacit assumption that the route through San Rafael is to be preferred.

Now the Kentfield master plan is being unveiled. It plainly and unmistakably says the route should go via San Rafael and NOT through Ross Valley.

The final decisions on these plans will be influenced largely by what the people of West Marin and the Ross Valley areas (along with interested, organized conservation groups) say about them in public hearings.

The people of San Rafael are likely to leave consideration of the West Marin plan up to West Marinites and consideration of the Kentfield plan up to Ross Valley-ites.

One day San Rafael will wake up to find the freeway is headed in its direction without any expression pro or con from San Rafael.

This obviously would NOT be proper.

But if it is to be avoided, San Rafael must "get into the act" now.

The business interests of San Rafael, presumably through the Chamber of Commerce, should get busy with a study of the situation—if they don't want the matter decided solely by someone else.

Likewise, the city planning commission and the city council should give immediate consideration to the question of whether the freeway should or should not be routed through San Rafael.

The Baby Quail

Last year we had an even dozen baby quail being regularly escorted around our yard by their proud parents. This year we often see two adult males, one hen taking care of a single youngster. What has happened, we don't know, but we suspect the other hen is nesting again after an earlier failure.

The care given this one baby is up to the usual quail standards, a male sentry fore and aft, ever alert and calling the signals for the hen and her chick.

We hope to be able to report a much larger family before the season is over.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Consumer Counsel Conclave Hit As Try To Justify Its Existence

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—How a faltering state agency drums up business, at taxpayer expense, to build up its activities and attempt to justify its existence is shown in the invitations issued by the consumer counsel to a "Conference on Research Needs in Consumer Economics," at the University of California in Berkeley Sept. 10-12.

THE INVITATION was issued by Helen Nelson, consumer counsel to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, and Morton Gordon, director of the University of California Extension in Berkeley.

However, the public, which foots the bills for the conference, is not invited to the conference, which according to Jane Dachtelberg, public relations director for the consumer counsel, will be "closed."

And absent on the invited list will be the people who are responsible for servicing the consumer, that is, retailing organizations, which have as much or more at stake in the consumer picture than the consumer himself.

Purpose of the conference, according to the invitation, is to "appraise the adequacy of current research and data-collection programs having to do with consumer economics."

ALTHOUGH CONSUMER economics is not defined in the letter, the subject itself could cover every conceivable field of buying and the corresponding field of selling within the state, as everyone who buys is a consumer, and everyone buys. And everyone who sells is a service agency for the consumer, but the seller is to be deprived of having his day in court in this particular instance before the bureaucratic government researchers.

One of the profound questions the conference will discuss will be, "Is the traditional view onf the consumer's function in the economy still valid?"

THE TRADITIONAL view of the consumer isn't defined by Mrs. Nelson. Apparently the government-paid researchers are supposed to know what the traditional view is. And if the traditional view is invalid, then the whole economy is shot, as from time immemorial the consumer has been and continues to be a buyer of goods and services.

The conference, to dream up more work for government researchers and add more staff to the already burdensome taxpayer load, will discuss "what types of information are needed by consumers and consumer organizations, and by those who formulate public policy?" For better than a quarter of a million dollars a year in tax money, the consumer has already discovered via the consumer counsel's office that there was excess water in some canned hams. But the sale of canned hams doesn't appear to be diminishing because of this crucial expose.

The conference has consumer expenditure patterns, consumer credit and finance, and consumer housing choices listed as subjects for discussion.

GOVERNOR BROWN himself is scheduled to appear as a speaker, explaining "Research needs in consumer economics—The demands of public policy."

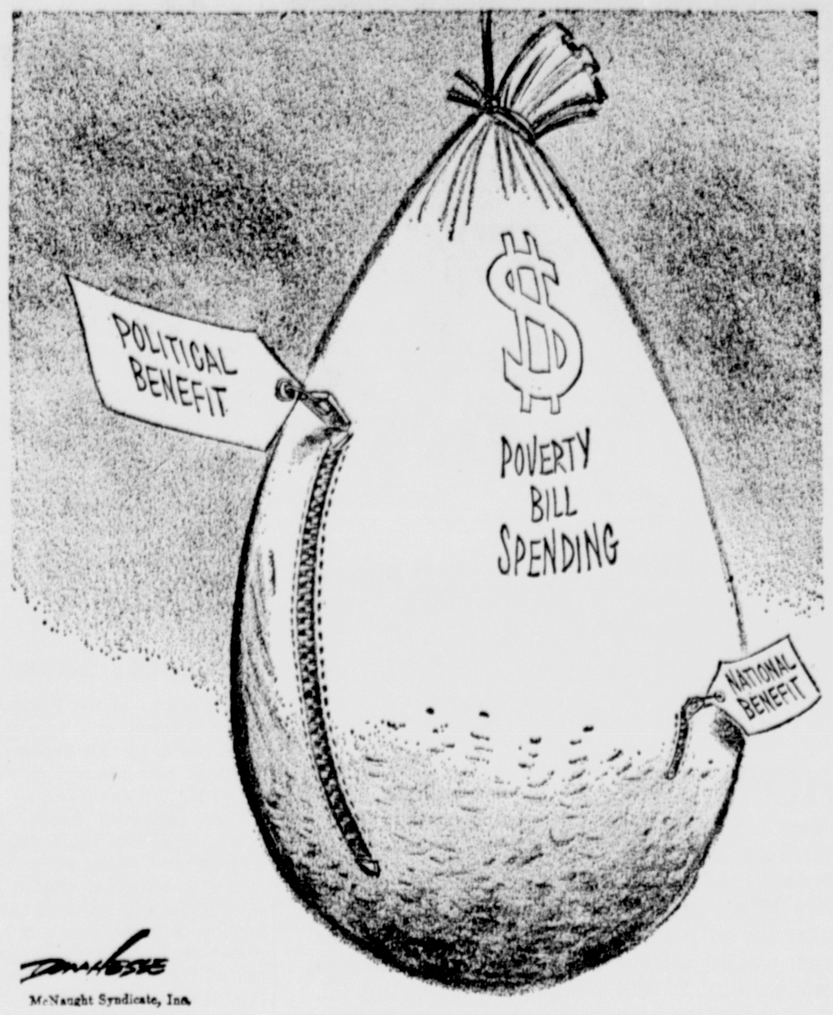

All of which appears to be leading up to more government control of business, which is bent anyhow by laws, licenses, taxes and other overseeing regulations.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Hub City's Future Nears Crossroads

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the next (August 25) meeting of the San Anselmo City Council, the local Chamber of Commerce will present its request for public hearings on re-zoning the entire downtown area in accordance with the Town Center Plan.

It is to be hoped that these hearings will not only be held, but that they will be attended by business, professional and residential organizations with a view to obtaining more than the present Chamber's narrow view on the development of San Anselmo.

Among the Chamber's reasons for requesting the rezoning is the following, taken from their letter to the City Council:

"From time to time, investors willing to gamble on the future of our community, have purchased property and requested zonings in accordance with this Plan adopted in San Anselmo. This has frequently been met by 'heel dragging' and opposition by individual residents who are more interested in preserving the cow pasture character of their neighborhood (including unsafe roads, poor street lighting, etc., etc.,) than in helping the city to grow in its orderly, planned manner."

Such a blame-laying approach can be guaranteed to raise the hackles of many residents who have turned out to protest re-zonings for apartment houses, subdivisions, or commercial buildings precisely because of the traffic hazards these would create on our substandard street system.

Although city law calls for a minimum street width of 40 feet, hardly one per cent of our streets actually meet the legal requirement — including many in the "downtown" area. Most of them are more like 20 feet wide, if that.

I, for example, drive daily on one of these 20-foot "downtown" streets which is now lined with apartment houses—built to the sidewalk—on one side. When there are cars parked on one side and other cars attempting to travel in opposite directions, the resulting traffic jam does not make the irritated driver feel kindly about further expansion of multiple or commercial zoning.

These narrow streets, bequeathed us by generations of city councils, are now heavily built up. They are a physical fact of the town—whether good or bad may be debateable as long as it remains residential in character. The Town Center Plan, however, proposes the establishment of a major shopping area, with large stores and a parking building, to serve several communities in addition to our own.

Both the Town Center Plan and its predecessor—the far better Campbell Plan—proposed carving a new "Commercial Street" through the downtown area in order to provide traffic circulation. Nothing has been done about this new street in the five years since it was proposed.

I question the feasibility of any major shopping area with an inadequate street system. It may turn out, after all, that the characteristics of our streets will determine the character of our town.

Yours truly,

ANNE WEST

More, Not Less Watershed Need

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I believe that it would be a profound mistake for the Marin Municipal Water District to reduce the watershed area by going ahead with the proposed abandonment of the Phoenix Lake drainage basin.

The county's population is increasing and more rather than less watershed should be made available.

It will be recalled that the late John Burt, the man who really created the Water District, was always vitally interested in expanding the water resources of Marin County. To this end he directed a number of pilot studies to determine whether run-off delaying forests could be planted on bare or brush-grown slopes. The fine stands of conifers at the Double Bow Knot and other locations on Tamalpais reveal the feasibility of his long-range plans.

Salinger Ruling Defies The Law

Editor, Independent-Journal:

One cannot blame Pat Brown and other Cranston supporters for switching their money to a winning horse (Pierre Salinger), but must we stand helplessly by while the State Supreme Court, an appointed body, makes rulings which defy the law in order to favor a political personage or party? . . .

Because of the furor aroused over Salinger's appointment, a Senate ruling was sought. The people spoke—the verdict was six to one in favor of the appointment. One kind reporter fairly noted, "The Rules Committee was made up of six Democrats and one Republican."

I think I prefer as Senator an unquestionably honest "song and dance man" from California to a (person) for whom the race has evidently been rigged. . . .

A STORY CURRENTLY popular in Tel-Tviv concerns the newly enlisted spy in the Israeli Secret Service who is sent to America on a top-secret mission concerned with finding more water to irrigate the Negev Desert. "When you deplane at Kennedy Airport," he is instructed, "proceed to 171 Riverton Street, ring the bell of Rosenbluth's apartment, and say 'The sky is blue and the grass is green.' He'll tell you what to do from there on in."

The agent proceeds without incident to 171 Riverton Street, but is perplexed when he discovers that there are two Rosenbluths living there. He takes a chance and rings the bell of the Rosenbluth on the first floor. When it is opened, he quickly whispers, "The sky is blue and the grass is green." The man inside tells him, "It isn't I you want, my friend. Rosenbluth, the secret agent, is the one on the fourth floor!"

Demos Doleful At GOP Ability To Heal Wounds, Get Behind Barry

WASHINGTON—The Democrats are very disappointed at what is happening to the Republican Party.

They thought they were seeing sure signs of a deeply divided and decimated GOP in the wake of the harsh fight in San Francisco between the conservative and liberal wings of the party over Sen. Barry Goldwater's nomination.

THE REPUBLICANS are closing ranks pretty effectively. There will be fewer and less important GOP defections in the nation as a whole than there will be Democratic leadership defections in the South.

Except for Henry Cabot Lodge, who will be conveniently out of the country for most of the campaign, Goldwater is not losing the support of any of the party's top leaders. Two or three congressmen remain outside the party fold.

Senator Goldwater is not even giving up on Sens. Kenneth Keating and Jacob Javits of New York. I suspect that, if Mr. Keating accepts renomination for the Senate, he will be found supporting the national ticket.

THE DECISION of the moderate Republican leaders to support Senator Goldwater is exactly the same kind of decision in reverse which Senator Goldwater had to make in supporting Richard Nixon in 1960 and the (Robert) Taft men had to make in supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952. Goldwater did not relish Nixon as the nominee any more than William Scranton relishes Goldwater. Goldwater considered the Nixon platform a "surrender." But Goldwater put party loyalty as a controlling obligation. Scranton, Nelson Rockefeller, George Romney and the others are doing the same today.

This is the code of the political professional. It is an honorable code. If you believe in the two-party system, which is crucial to responsible government in this vast and diverse nation, you can't walk out of your party just because in one year your viewpoint is in the minority.

The one-happy-family atmosphere which exuded at the summit conference at Hershey, Pa., undoubtedly overstates the unity behind Goldwater. It is substantial, but not completely reassuring.

IT HAS TWO weaknesses:

The support of some of the Republican moderates will be less than extreme — I mean whole-hearted. This was true in 1952 when the disappointed and disaffected Taft supporters in Massachusetts helped to bring about the defeat of then-Senator Lodge.

While Goldwater will hold the support of nearly all Republican leaders, he will lose the support of many Republican voters. Voters have no special party obligation. Except in the South, President Lyndon B. Johnson is doing as well corraling Republican voters as Eisenhower did in winning Democratic voters.

Senator Goldwater's central problem is not just holding the Republican leaders in line, but holding the Republican voters in line—plus winning enough Democrats to make up for the minority status of the Republican Party.

ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Warren Seeks Speed In Assassination Quiz

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Earl Warren is setting an Oct. 1 deadline for the long-awaited report of the special seven-member commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Two factors are behind Warren's insistence:

THE PROBE already has run eight months, and it is his opinion that all the essential ground and facts have been thoroughly explored and assessed; and the Supreme Court reconvenes early in October and the chief justice wants to again devote himself fully to his judicial functions.

But some commission members feel the investigation is far from complete. They particularly want certain witnesses summoned, foremost among them Mrs. Marina Oswald, 22-year-old widow of the alleged killer. She has testified twice.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) feels Mrs. Oswald should be able to shed more light on her husband's activities and contacts in the U. S. and Russia than she has so far.

The Russian-born widow has stated she knew nothing about her husband's outside life. However, she did acknowledge knowing he had attended "meetings," but claimed ignorance of their nature, purpose or location—other than that they were "political."

A DRAFT REPORT has been submitted to the seven commission members and is being considered by them. Principal over-all conclusion is that the assassination was the act of a "single irrational individual impelled by a distorted mentality and motivation."

Some commission members disagree with this judgment. They are still not convinced Oswald did not have accomplices; that others were not involved in the slaying. These members are inclined to the view that the murder was part of a conspiracy whose origin and ramifications have yet to be fully unearthed.

It is these critical doubts that may delay the final report—or lead to supplemental or separate findings. It's very possible one or more members may issue their own deductions.

The testimony of other witnesses also is wanted.

They include State Department and intelligence officials who either had direct dealings with Oswald during the three years he lived in Russia or handled his case administratively in Washington.

One of these authorities ruled he had not renounced his American citizenship despite his self-avowed defection in Moscow. Thus, Oswald was allowed to return to the U. S. and several months before the Kennedy assassination was given a passport in New Orleans, on the same day he applied for it, that would have enabled him to go back to Russia.

COMMISSION MEMBERS are discounting reports that their findings may become an issue in the fall election. . . . Several books are slated to be published later this year on the assassination; at least one is being held up pending publication of the commission's report. . . . In addition to the probers' conclusions and recommendations, all the testimony and every document and exhibit assembled by the commission will be published by the Government Printing Office.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRANK FARRARA

In Age Of Pigeonholes, At Least Newspapers Resist Classification

HOW DO YOU zone a newspaper?

County planning commissioners faced that problem not long ago and they are still not sure.

Newspapers apparently fall somewhere between retail business and industrial in the planner's galaxy of zones.

Some disgruntled reporters believe they belong in the category of salt mines, but the county doesn't have any zoning for those either.

It seems as though with all the letters and numbers the planners have to tinker with in their zoning regulations they shouldn't have too much trouble devising a category for newspapers.

THEY CERTAINLY don't lack categories when it comes to residential areas.

If you listen closely at a planning commission meeting, you will soon learn that a man's home is not his castle . . . but R1-B1.

Translated, R1-B1 means a single-family residence with a 10,000-square-foot lot.

In the interest of plugging all the loopholes in the zoning ordinance, we offer the following zoning classifications for newspapers:

N1-D—One daily newspaper.

N1-D-10,000—One daily newspaper with a circulation of 10,000 or less.

N1-W—One weekly newspaper.

N2-W—One newspaper plant printing three weekly newspapers.

That's at least a start which, with a little effort, the planners can expand upon until they finally arrive at the ultimate . . . more categories than there are newspapers.

THE PROBLEM arose because newspapers have characteristics of retail business (selling a product) and industry (manufacturing a product).

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs wisely concluded that newspapers probably belong in the general commercial area when it comes to zoning.

Commissioners made no attempt to categorize the type of work done by reporters, since they don't sell anything or to all appearances aren't manufacturing anything.

AT ANY RATE, it was satisfying to learn that newspapers defy strict classification in a day when everything is labeled, numbered, lettered, categorized, stamped and wrapped up under some kind of a symbol.

Extremism, Moderation Spill Over Into Scribe's Family Arguments

WASHINGTON — There has been a great deal of confusion recently over the words "extremism" and "moderation," and everyone is trying to clarify what they mean. Last week Sen. Barry Goldwater wrote a "Dear Dick" letter to former Vice President Richard Nixon in which he explained how he used these words. Little did we realize that we would have to clarify our use of them in the same week. We had a fight with our wife, and since we weren't talking, she sent us a letter asking us to clear up several things we said in the argument.

HER LETTER read:

Dear Sir:

Since our meeting three days ago, I have received several inquiries from my mother and friends concerning your use of the words "extremism" and "moderation." The charge has been made that in using these words you were in effect approving recklessness and unlawful activity in achieving a sound and happy home. I have assured all of those who have raised this question with me that you would be the first to reject the use of any illegal or improper methods to achieve the great goals to which all of our family is striving.

I believe, however, that it would be most helpful if you would clear the air once and for all in this regard, and I would appreciate it if you would send me any further comments you wish to make respecting the intended meaning of these two words.

Sincerely yours,
ANN BUCHWALD

Dear Mrs. Buchwald:

Your letter was most welcome. Misunderstanding must not be permitted to stand in the way of unity of the family. Much has been said about my use of the words "extremism" and "moderation" in our discussion of the other evening. But when they are seen in their correct context, I am sure you will agree that I used the words correctly.

WHEN I CALLED you an extremist the other night, I was only referring to the way you spend money on the house. I did not mean to insult the political convictions of your mother, who happened to be there at the time. I used the word only after you showed me the bill for the $600 dining room table, which came, I might remind you again, without chairs.

Your mother's retort, that extremism in the pursuit of affluence was no vice, was uncalled for and clouded the argument. My plea for moderation in spending was interpreted by both you and your bother to mean that I had a no-win policy when it came to furnishing the home.

All I was demanding was some reasonable solution to a very difficult economic situation.

I ADMIT that I said that I would have to resort to some extreme measures if the spending spree did not stop, but this was no reason for your mother to call me a member of the John Birch Society.

While it is true that I did say that anyone who spends more than her husband makes is leading him down the extreme path to communism, I did not call either of you Communists by name as you are said to have told your sister Joan.

I know that my cause is just, and I hope that this letter clears up the matter as far as both you and your mother are concerned. If you use "extremism" to mean whole-hearted devotion to the family budget and "moderation" to mean half-hearted devotion to the household economy, then I'm sure my words could not be interpreted in any other way. Looking forward to seeing you at the summit conference.

Sincerely yours,
ART BUCHWALD

Marinite Gets A.F. Gold Bars

Stephen M. Mathews of 53 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

He graduated last week from the officers training school at Lackland, Air Force Base, Tex., and will be stationed at Keeler Air Force, Miss., for a year's training in communications.

Housing Plan For Elderly Is On Agenda

A proposal for construction of low-rent housing for elderly persons will be reviewed by the San Rafael City Council at 8 p.m. today at city hall.

At its Aug. 3 meeting the council withheld approval of the plan proposed by the Citizens Committee for Housing of Marin Elderly (HOME) until it could get assurance the HOME plan would not block any similar city-sponsored project.

HOME is sponsoring a Nov. 3 ballot measure which will ask county voters to approve the federally aided construction of 200 low-rent units by the Marin Housing Authority.

The council also will receive a request from the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce for parking space at the site where the new city hall is to be constructed on Fifth Street, between B and D Streets, during double-deck construction at two downtown municipal lots.

The chamber also will request that the city's all-day lot adjacent to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. property on Third Street be switched to two-hour parking during the construction period.

Other items on the agenda include a hearing on the rezoning of Twelveoak Hill Units 1 and 2 from unclassified to single-family residential, opening of bids on installation of restroom facilities at Victor Jones Park, appointment of a deputy city attorney and setting the 1964-65 tax rate.

DO YOU HAVE A LOGICAL MIND?

If you have a logical mind as evidenced by a standard aptitude analysis, there's a good chance you can be a success in one of the fastest growing professions of all time: computer programming. Salaries up to $10,000-$15,000.

Here are typical questions given on the IBM aptitude test (there are many more). A is changed in certain ways to make B; change C in the same ways and it will make one of the following choices.

The correct answer is three. Now see if you can figure out the next one.

If you can solve these and more like them you may have a good future in America's fastest growing field.

High-Rise Plan Due Comments— Marina Proposal In Hearing Stage

The proposed high-rise development of William Nock and Faradg Gilan-Farr west of Wolfe Grade just above the end of D Street should get into comment or controversy this month. The San Rafael Planning Commission last Tuesday set the first public hearing for Aug. 25—and the second for Sept. 15.

So far, says Gilan-Farr, the reaction has not been unfavorable—but the hearings will tell the story.

ALSO IN THE PROCESS of going through public hearings—but in Contra Costa County is San Rafael building contractor L. E. (Bud) Weisenburg who was awarded the master planning, engineering, designing and building of a five-million-dollar marina residential development on Bethel Island known as Delta Coves. It involves some 400 homesites, boatels, etc. Things look favorable, but here, too, there are hurdles to be cleared.

WE HAVE already noted that the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce acts as a reporting agent for the San Francisco Better Business Bureau in Marin, handling inquiries on questionable firms and supplying blanks for reporting complaints. Now comes word from the Novato Chamber of Commerce that the same functions for the northern part of Marin are being serviced here.

PERSONNEL CHANGES are still going on at Foremost Dairies. Latest is the appointment of James A. Rowen of Marinwood to traffic manager, with responsibility for all of the company's domestic and foreign traffic operations.

Since 1961 Rowen has been general procurement and traffic manager for the international division. (Foremost has operations in 20 countries abroad.) He joined the company in 1946 and was six years in Japan as traffic and purchasing manager for the Far East.

PEARCE OR PIERCE? A source of confusion back in 1948, like history, is repeating itself. George G. Pearce, once associated with Pierce Realty, San Rafael, has returned to the firm after 16 years—to manage the office. He is a Marin broker of 20 or more years standing and recently has been with the office of Marie Rivers.

The Pierces in the firm are Roger, as salesman, and his mother Angela, who works in the office. But someone is sure to get the names mixed up.

JAMES A. ROWEN
Made traffic manager

CO-OWNERS George Spackman and Bob Conley of Spackman Plumbing Co., 91 Joseph Court, San Rafael, have just had a little side venture of theirs completed—a 14-unit apartment house at 255 Channing Way, on a viewsite above the office. John Newton was the general contractor.

Two bedroom apartments, carpeted, draped and with electric kitchens are now being rented. Manager is on the premises.

MOTORCRAFT. Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet will celebrate the grand opening of new showrooms on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera next Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday . . . There's talk of a new sports car by Rambler for 1965, possibly named Marlin—but not to be introduced until Jan. 1 . . . Final figure on the 1964-model run of cars was 7,891,200—7.4 per cent higher than last year's previous high . . . Shamrock Dodge (San Rafael and Mill Valley) and Nave Dodge, Novato were to get their first look at the 1965 passenger car and truck lines last Friday. The public will see them Sept. 23.

HUGH J. McGRAW of Larkspur has joined Campbell-Ewald Co. in San Francisco as copywriter. He was recently copy supervisor for Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, San Francisco.

Phone Corp. Income, Sales Hit Record

NEW YORK—Net income and sales and revenues of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. set all-time highs in the second quarter and first half of 1964, Harold S. Geneen, president, has reported to stockholders.

Net income for the second quarter increased 18 per cent to $15,431,000 or 79 cents per share, compared with earnings of $13,030,000 or 68 cents per share of the similar 1963 period, on a restated basis for companies acquired in pooling of interest transactions. Excluding pooling of interest restatement, net income for the second quarter of 1964 was up 13 per cent as compared with net income per common share reported for the same period in 1963.

Net income for the first half of 1964 was $27,753,000, an increase of 17 per cent over the $23,693,000 in the corresponding period of 1963 on a restated basis. Net income on the same basis per average common share for the same period was $1.42, compared with $1.22 in last year's first half.

Ammonia Plant Being Planned

MADERA (UPI)—The General Exploration Co. of Los Angeles has announced it will build a five-million dollar ammonia plant near its natural gas field in the Red Top area of Madera County.

Company vice president W. F. Crooks said the plant will produce ammonia gas and possibly liquid ammonia at a rate of 200 tons a day. It will be sold to markets in the San Joaquin Valley, he said.

Crook said the plant will be constructed on between 40 and 50 acres near the company's two gas wells. Completion date is late 1965.

Kaiser Steel Plans Expansion

OAKLAND (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. has announced a 119-million-dollar expansion program to increase production and range of products.

Galvanizing facilities will be added to the company's steel plant at Fontana, Calif. to permit Kaiser to enter the galvanized sheet market.

Coal mine facilities at Raton, N.M. will be expanded "to open up a deposit of high-grade metallurgical quality" coking coal.

The outlay also includes the previously announced installation of iron ore pelletizing equipment and expansion of Kaiser's iron ore mine at Eagle Mountain, Calif.

Times Mirror Co. Income Goes Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Times Mirror Co. reported today net income of $5,140,948, equal to $1.02 a common share, for the 28 weeks ended July 12.

This compares with $4,318,459 or 95 cents a share in the corresponding period last year.

Tax Returns Confidential, But U.S. Agencies Peek

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Your federal tax return is confidential, but you're wrong if you think your friendly Internal Revenue agents are the only ones who ever look at it.

Every federal agency and every state as well as several committees of Congress and certain individuals have the right to examine your return.

It is all perfectly legal if they look at it in the line of duty and follow a rigid procedure designed to keep the contents confidential.

Surprised?

No more surprised than Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) when he discovered that the Federal Trade Commission had been rummaging around in corporation tax returns to obtain statistics for the FTC's quarterly study on how various industries were doing.

Company tax returns are "none of your business," Allott told Commission Chairman Paul Rand Dixon.

Dixon answered that such inspection had been carried out for years under a presidential order and that the Internal Revenue Service's recent decentralization had forced the FTC to stop looking at returns and to rely on the IRS itself to supply the data.

Nevertheless, another committee member, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), said it "sort of shocks" him that the commission had had access to tax returns where it wasn't trying to prosecute a criminal case.

The FTC is not the only federal agency that has received presidential permission to examine broad classes of tax returns. Others are the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commerce Department, the Renegotiation Board and the Social Security Administration.

Like the trade commission, the SEC and the Commerce Department use returns to prepare statistical reports. No names of firms or individuals are ever made public.

An SEC spokesman told United Press International that the procedure means it doesn't have to send out questionnaires to firms and thus saves the firms the trouble and expense of having to reply.

The renegotiation board looks at returns to see if defense and space contractors have made excess profits off the government. If so, they must cough up.

The Social Security Administration uses returns to check individual earnings when someone makes an unsupported claim for benefits. So far it has turned up 22 million dollars in social security taxes that people never got credit for paying.

When these or any other agencies look at tax returns, they must do it at an IRS office and with specially picked personnel sworn not to disclose any names. The penalty for disclosure is a $1,000 fine, or one year in jail, or both.

While these five federal agencies are the only ones that have blanket permission to examine whole classes of returns, the law says that the head of any other agency may look at a specific return "in connection with some matter officially before him."

An IRS spokesman said most agencies have had occasion, at one time or other, to peek at particular returns. This includes the departments of defense, state, and agriculture.

Congress has given three of its own committees standing permission to examine returns. These are House Ways and Means, Senate Finance, and the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

The president may designate any committee to look at specific returns for a specific purpose. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee used this authority in investigating the lobby activities of foreign agents.

States can get permission to peruse all federal tax returns filed within their borders as well as specific returns filed elsewhere. Either way, it takes a letter from the governor to the commissioner of internal revenue.

Kaden Estates Grand Opening Slated Tomorrow

A grand opening of the Kaden Estates residential tract in Novato will be held tomorrow starting at 11 a.m. and extending until dusk.

The subdivision is located off Rowland Boulevard west of South Novato Boulevard. Victor Parrilla, sales manager for the developers, K D N Corp., said there are 10 completed three and four-bedroom homes, and some lots will be sold for custom built homes.

Houses feature cedar-lined closets, sunken living rooms, double oven kitchens and double sinks and other conveniences. The homes are fully insulated, Parrilla said. Prices range from $24,250 to $27,500.

The subdivision lies in the Novato Unified School District.

Chrysler Rate

DETROIT — Retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in the first 10 day sales period of August were 24,348 units, a daily rate of 3,044 units.

Mack Merger Plan With Chrysler Out

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today with some sharp losses. Trading was moderate.

Mack Trucks was down around half a dozen points following the collapse of plans for a merger with Chrysler.

Chrysler traded about unchanged.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.5 million shares compared with 4.05 million Friday.

Gains and losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point.

Mack Trucks, however, plummeted half a dozen points as the Chrysler and Mack managements decided to drop merger plans following a preliminary injunction against the proposed acquisition. Chrysler erased a fractional gain.

Motor stocks as a whole were fairly steady as the auto companies made a counter-offer in the union bargaining. Ford and General Motors were fractionally higher.

U.S. Smelting held a 3-point gain.

American Cyanamid was off more than 2 while most other chemicals gained fractions. Tobacco stocks staged a moderate advance, with Reynolds Tobacco up about a point.

Gains of a point or so were made by Sears Roebuck, IBM, and Polaroid.

Corning Glass lost about 6.

Prices were mixed in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed; governments were mostly unchanged.

Dow, Coastal Plan Plant In Texas

SAN FRANCISCO — The Dow Chemical Co. and Coastal States Gas Producing Co. plan to build a $7.5 million liquid hydrocarbon extraction plant at Bay City, Tex., it has been announced.

The plant will produce ethane and propane for Dow's 2,500 acre chemical complex at Freeport, Tex., and sell butane and natural gasoline to industrial users.

Colored Video Tubes Planned

CHICAGO—Admiral Corp. has announced plans to manufacture color television picture tubes, while reporting higher sales and earnings in the second quarter and the first six months.

Consolidated net sales in the second quarter increased 7 per cent to $54,255,569 from $50,510,359 last year, Vincent Barreca, president, reported. Government business continued to decline and was more than 40 per cent lower in the quarter and the first half, he said.

Earnings after provision of $478,291 for taxes were $705,141 or 29 cents per share on 2,454,421 shares outstanding, compared with $678,750 or 28 cents per share in the comparable period in 1963.

Safeway Sales Show Increase

OAKLAND — Safeway Stores, Inc., has announced sales for the first 32 weeks this year were 4.4 per cent ahead of the comparable period last year.

For the 32 weeks ended Aug. 8 sales totaled $1,679,422,994 as against $1,608,592,975 for the comparable 1963 period.

Safeway's consolidated sales for the four weeks ended Aug. 8 amounted to $216,915,641 as compared to $207,762,291, for the four weeks ended Aug. 10, 1963, an increase of 4.4 per cent.

Dymo Industries Paying Dividend

BERKELEY — Dymo Industries, Inc., of Berkeley has announced that the board of directors has declared a 3 per cent stock dividend payable to shareholders of record at the close of business on Sept. 4. Payment will be made on Sept. 21.

The board, at its Friday meeting, authorized distribution of full shares only. Fractional shares resulting from this dividend will be converted to cash and distributed to shareholders involved.

Cardinal General Manager Devine Quits

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two key St. Louis Cardinal executives, General Manager Bing Devine and Business Manager Art Routzong, have resigned from the National League baseball team, the Post-Dispatch said today.

"Since it has been learned about my resignation prematurely," said Devine, "I have no choice other than to confirm it."

The Post-Dispatch story, written by Sports Editor Bob Broeg, said Devine was stepping out because Cardinal President August A. Busch Jr. had become "disappointed and frustrated" over the team's failure to win a pennant.

Last fall, Devine was named major league baseball's No. 1 executive-of-the-year by the Sporting News.

Devine, 47, had worked with the organization since his graduation from college 25 years ago. He said he would remain with the club "until or at least near the end of the season."

Routzong, 52, announced his resignation effective immediately. He had been with the Redbirds since 1957. Routzong's estimated salary was $17,500, Devine's was $40,000.

Busch recently let everyone in St. Louis know about his unhappiness over the Cardinals' performance this year. He hinted publicly that changes would be made if the Redbirds didn't move up in the standings.

St. Louis was in fifth place today, nine games behind league-leading Philadelphia. Last year, the Cards finished second.

Giants Lost A Big Opportunity; Marichal Starts Working Out

CONNOLLY

To the trained musical ear, there is a faint echo in the distance of a song that sounds awfully much like Chopin's finest contribution — the funeral march. It may come through clearer, louder, and later on, leave no doubt as to its true meaning. But with 44 games remaining for the S.F. Giants and 47 for the Phils, anything could, and usually does happen in a nose and nose finish in a pennant race.

It's going to take a lot more hitting and a lot better pitching to sweep the Giants into the lead. They had a golden opportunity in the double header yesterday with the Milwaukee Braves and "blew it," dropping both ends of the twin bill while the NY Mets were dumping the Phills.

THERE WERE so many little "heads up" plays that could have brought the Giants home in front that it is useless to mention them. Let it suffice to say the Giants just were not "up to it." They seem to lack the snap and killer instinct. They go stumbling along unaware, it seems, of golden opportunities. After the situation passes they fight back valiantly but in vain.

One bright cloud broke through yesterday however when Juan Marichal showed up in the press box and confided that he had started working out again and hopes he will be back in a position to pitch real soon.

Juan, one half of the Giant's crippled pitching staff, met Jack Sanford to say good-bye as Jack left for his home in the east not to return for the balance of the season.

TOMORROW night the Cincy Reds sweep into town for three games and on Friday night, Saturday and Sunday the St. Louis Cards will visit, to wind up a 10-game home stay.

It is rough to say it, but the awesome power of the Giants works in reverse. They get the "long ball" but the "short count."

Four home runs—two by Willie Mays, one by Willie McCovey and another by Orlando Cepeda —kept an audience of more than 40,000 cash customers entertained in the opener yesterday only to see them stumble to defeat. The homers were solo ones and didn't bear the results that the long ball is expected to bring forth.

AND DEFENSIVELY the Giants seem to be weak in the clutch. Hart's error and McCovey's slopping fielding didn't make a hit with the huge crowd, one of the best of the season.

Willie Mays fielding and hitting, however, was worth the price admission. He is best when the roar of the mob is in his ears. His two tape measure home runs were something to see and his rabbit running in the outfield was the finest seen since the late sprinter Charley Paddock made his debut. Willie was in deep rightfield one moment and in deep left the next. It must be terrifying for him to watch the incompetence of his mates, who seem to lack baseball instinct.

Manager Al Dark showed an unusual heap of confidence in pitcher Gaylord Perry yesterday in the first game, not even having a relief pitcher ready when the Braves struck for the "kill" in the seventh inning. That bad frame began when Hart muffed a hard liner from Dennis Menke. Mike DeLa Hoz, pinch hitting for pitcher Frank Lary, pumped a weak, freak hit, to left which McCovey played poorly. With two strong left-handed hitters coming up and a bag open, Commander Dark permitted Perry to pitch to Eddie Matthews, and the nemesis of the Giants for years, and Eddie rode one far out and over the centerfield fence for a three run homer that sent the Braves into the lap of victory.

THE BIG hue and cry whenever manager Dark is criticized is that he can't think, run, or hit for his players. And if you are to believe the stories printed, he is not able to get along with them. In that event, what is a manager hired for unless it is to be a night watchman for his athletes?

Reporters on "secret papers" in the Peninsula area are credited with stores that Dark already has confessed to them, he isn't coming back next year. And to that I say—"what's new about that?"

THIS 24 IS MAYE, NOT MAYS — Milwaukee's Lee Maye almost made a play worthy of San Francisco's Willie Mays in the eighth inning of the first game yesterday at Candlestick Park when Orlando Cepeda lashed a line drive to the centerfield fence. Maye leaped high, but the ball was gone and so was his glove, until a cooperative fan tossed it back to him. The Braves hope Maye will adequately fill the void in the middle garden left by the trade of Bill Bruton to Detroit three years ago. (AP Wirephoto)

Pennant Hopes Sag For Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants hit 'em where and when they ain't.

And that's why they're 4½ games down in second place behind the Philadelphia Phillies.

Hitting them where they ain't used to mean cleverly batting the baseball between fielders. The Giants hit them out of the park.

San Francisco batsmen hit five over Candlestick Park fences yesterday, yet went down to a double defeat by the Milwaukee Braves, 5-4 and 10-2.

Each of the five was hit with the bases empty. The braves hit only two — but each with two men on. The Giants have now hit nine consecutive bases-empty homers.

In dropping two to the Braves, the Giants lost ground to the Phils, losers 12-4 to the New York Mets in a single game.

Ed Mathews hit a three - run homer in the seventh inning of the opener that put the Braves up 5-3. The Giants had scored on a pair of homers by Willie Mays and one by Willie McCovey off winner Frank Lary (3-3).

Orlando Cepeda added his 23rd in the eighth off reliever Bob Tiefenauer.

It was the 36th and 37th homers for Mays, now swinging the hottest bat in the majors with eight home runs in the last 11 games.

The loss went to Gaylord Perry (8-9), who pitched seven innings. Jim Duffalo cleaned up with no additional damage.

Del Crandall got Bob Hendley (10-8) off to a 1-0 lead in the second game with a homer into the left field stands.

Hendley didn't protect it long. Gene Oliver hit his ninth homer in the four-run third with two men on and the Braves were off and winging. They scored four more times off reliever John Pregenzer in the seventh, although only one run was earned as the Giants made two errors.

Tony Cloninger went the distance for the Braves, getting his 12th win in 23 decisions.

"The Phillies have the inside track for the pennant," said Milwaukee manager Bobby Bragan after the doubleheader.

Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants was uncommunicative as he dressed to leave. Fans pressed against a fence and jeered and laughed as he walked to his car, pennant dreams sinking with the evening sun.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cards' Flood Almost Ties 80-Year-Old Hitting Mark

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies lost a single game. The San Francisco Giants lost a doubleheader.

But the biggest loser off all yesterday was Curt Flood — and he had eight hits.

While the National League's leading contenders were taking it on the chin, Flood was hitting the ball on the nose for the St. Louis Cardinals and threatening a record that was set when Baltimore was in the National League 70 years ago.
outfielder Joe Kelley had collected nine consecutive hits against Cleveland. No one had ever done it before and no one has done it since. Few have even had a shot at the record. But Flood did.

The 26-year-old right-handed swinger collected four hits as the Cardinals bowed to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Sandy Koufax 3-0 in the opener of a doubleheader and reached the ninth inning of St. Louis' 4-0 nightcap triumph with a string of eight consecutive hits.

Flood, however, lost his opportunity by striking out swinging against Ron Perranoski.

Flood, however, did become the first National Leaguer since Stan Rojok of Pittsburgh in 1948 to collect eight hits in a double-header and his four hits against Koufax also ranked among the top performances of the season.

Koufax hurled a three-hitter against the rest of the Cardinals as he posted his seventh shutout and 19th victory of the season, striking out 13 and lowering his earned run average to a league-leading 1.74.

The Phillies, meanwhile, were bombarded by the New York Mets 12-4 but still stretched their lead to 4½ games over the second-place Giants, who dropped a doubleheader to Milwaukee 5-4 and 10-2.

In other NL action, Chicago's Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 5-4 before the Pirates took the second game 7-4 and Cincinnati belted Houston 8-3.

Flood slammed a triple, two doubles and five singles against the Dodgers, collecting four hits in a game for the fifth and sixth time this season while lifting his average from .291 to 302.

He scored the only run Curt Simmons needed in the nightcap, opening the first with a triple and scoring on Dick Groat's sacrifice fly. Simmons checked the Dodgers on six hits, bringing his record to 14-9.

Koufax, now 19-5, moved two days ahead of his 1963 pace when he won 25 games, tied Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels for the most shutouts in the majors and struck out 10 or more batters for the 61st time in his career.

The Dodgers scored twice in the fifth on two walks and singles by John Roseboro and Dick Tracewski before Tommy Davis wrapped it up with a sixth inning homer.

Bobby Klaus led the Mets' 17-hit attack against the Phillies with four singles. He triggered a two-run first and started a three-run second and that proved enough. Galen Cisco, touched for homers by Richie Allen and John Herrnstein, won it for a 5-13 record.

The Cubs won the opener in the ninth when singles by Dick Bertell, Andre Rodgers and pinch hitter Jimmy Stewart produced the winning run off Pirate reliever Al McBean, who hadn't lost in 60 appearances dating back to July 27 last year.

Davis Lauds Play Of His Raiders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Al Davis of the Oakland Raiders said the films of their Friday night game at Denver showed that the team is moving toward the right mental attitude.

The 20-7 AFL exhibition win gave the Raider coach an opportunity to get a good look at a lot of his players. Davis said yesterday that he felt his top rookies are Rex Mirich, a defensive tackle, and Bill Budness, a linebacker.

Budness filled in for the injured Arch Matsos in the opener and Mirich took over when Dave Costa was injured in Friday's game. Costa suffered a severe shoulder injury and will be out of the lineup for at least 10 days.

Davis said the films showed that the team is "not near the mental toughness it's working toward," but he said the time to be sharp is when the season starts, not before.

Mrs. Prodger Wins Low Gross

Mrs. Herb Prodger fired low gross of 45 for the women while Herb Welp's 49 led the men in the Marin Country Club Home tournament which ended Friday evening.

Low net leaders were Mrs. Pat McGrath, 29, and Art Lindaur, 36.

Winners of flights were Dr. Richard Albert, Harry Flach and Oliver Merwin and Mesdames Norman Wilson, Lou Nave and Jan Haley.

Mrs. Herb Welp was presented a sportsmanship trophy at the final round of competition.

Coach Elmer Valo of the Cleveland Indians broke in as an outfielder with Federalsburg in the Easterrn Shore League in 1939. He played 1,806 major league games.

Chuck Courtney Is Tourney Winner

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Chuck Courtney headed for Akron, Ohio, today with his trusty four-wood occupying a place of honor among his baggage.

As far as Courtney is concerned it was the four-wood that has made him $11,500 richer and eligible to play in the American Golf Classic at Akron.

Courtney was battling for the St. Paul Open golf tournament title with several other professionals yesterday when he pulled the four wood out to tee off on the 220-yard, par-three 15th hole. The tee shot went straight to the green and landed 10 inches from the cup. He easily made the putt for a birdie.

The shot put him 13 strokes under par. He shot one over the rest of the way for a 66 and finished at 272, three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors.

"That was my big shot of the tournament," he said. "I knew I was battling with several other fellows at that point. But when I saw that ball sail up close to the pin on 15 I could have hung a sign on it," he said. "I knew I was going to win."

The victory not only was good for $11,500 in first place money, but also made Courtney eligible for the Akron Tourney this week.

"I figured I would have to shoot a 66," he said. "But I knew I had it on the 15th."

"After that I just played it safe," Courtney said.

A native of neighboring Minneapolis, he moved to La Jolla, Calif., when he was 11 years old.

"I'm sure glad we moved," he said. "I never played golf in Minnesota and I know I could never have been able to play enough to become a professional."

Charles Sifford, Los Angeles, Jack McGowan, Largo, Fla., and Rod Funseth, Spokane, Wash., finished in a tie for second place at 275.

Four strokes back were Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., PGA champion Bobby Nichols, Corona, Calif., Labron Harris, Burneyville, Okla., Bruce Devlin, Sydney, Australia, and Howie Johnson, Palm Springs, Calif.

National Open champion Ken Venturi finished at 279.

Birmingham Wins Pony World Series

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Birmingham, Ala. won the Junior League Pony World Series yesterday beating Rodeo, Calif., 6-2.

Denny Dowdy put Birmingham ahead to stay in the first inning with a two-run homer.

DUROCHER SLUGS AUTOGRAPH HOUND

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger coach Leo Durocher punched an autograph seeker in the jaw last night, police reported.

Robert Hallsworth, 29, of Downey, Calif., asked Durocher to sign a record album for his daughter as Durocher was driving out of the Dodger Stadium parking lot after a doubleheader with St. Louis.

Hallsworth told police the Dodger coach refused, drove on a few feet and then suddenly stopped, backed up, got out and demanded, "Who called me a jerk?"

Hallsworth replied, "I may have," and Durocher hit him. Police said there were three witnesses to the incident.

Hallsworth was treated and released at Central Receiving Hospital. No arrests were made, police said.

Marin Swim Star Places In Big Meet

Roberta Shistar of the Marin Pirates swim team finished fifth yesterday in the women's 100-meter butterfly in the Far Western Swimming Championships at Foothill College, Los Altos.

Her time was 1 minute 18.7 seconds, 8.4 seconds behind the winner.

Many stars who could have been expected to dominate the Far Western, such as Don Schollander and Donna De Varona, declined to enter because they are preparing for the Olympic Trials in New York Aug. 29-Sept. 3.

Their absence contributed to the loss by the Santa Clara Swim Club of the team title to the Palo Alto-Los Altos Swim Club.

WORLD SERIES OF FUTURE

Could NBC Play Against CBS?

BOSTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin is the next batter due in the controversial sale of the New York Yankees to CBS — baseball's hottest topic from capitol hill to the dugouts.

Cronin said he will decide today whether to call a league meeting as requested by Arthur Allyn, president of the Chicago White Sox.

Allyn contends the telegraphic vote which approved 8-2 the sale of 80 per cent of Yankee stock to CBS, violates the league constitution.

Meanwhile, Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-NY, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said in Washington the transaction may run afoul of the Celler-Kefauver anti-trust act.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS, replied CBS had been advised by counsel before undertaking negotiations "that the acquisition would in no way violate the anti-trust laws, including the Celler-Kefauver act."

An American League spokesman likewise says its plan to take a telegraphic vote as requested by the Yankees was given the legal green light by Ben Fiery, the league's attorney and "the foremost authority on the American League constitution."

Cronin was in Baltimore yesterday and said he would "certainly take up the matter" of the Allyn request for a meeting upon his return to his Back Bay office today.

As league president, Cronin is free to call an owners meeting, or not, at his discretion. If he decides not to call the meeting, Allyn can force a meeting by getting two other owners to request it with him.

Allyn voted against the Yankees-CBS sale. So did Charles O. Finley, Kansas City owner.

Allyn contends a unanimous vote was required for the Yankees-CBS sale unless the owners had received notice 15 days in advance. The subject of possible sale had not arisen at the annual owners meeting in Chicago a few days earlier.

Rep. Celler had this to say about the acquisition of a major league baseball team by the television-radio network:

"Viewed as a vertical acquisition of a major supplier by a customer, this acquisition gives CBS one voice out of 10 in passing on its own bids for the radio and television broadcast rights to the World Series . . . the All-Star game and Game-of-The-Week broadcasts.

"It is fair to assume that CBS, as owner of radio and TV stations in New York, will exclude other networks from the radio and TV broadcast rights to Yankee home games, and it may give its owned and operated stations in other cities, such as Chicago and Los Angeles, the inside track on Yankee away-game telecasts in those cities.

"In addition, the trend may continue. The Detroit Tigers are controlled by John Fetzer, who has important broadcast interests. So, too, the Los Angeles Angels are controlled by a group headed by Gene Autry, which has substantial broadcast interests. Accordingly, this acquisition may set off a chain of similar ones.

"Indeed, the day may come when NBC ends up playing CBS in the World Series."

Stanton replied that "the reservations expressed by congressman Celler should be allayed by the statements made Friday at the signing of our contract with the Yankees by William S. Paley, chairman of CBS., and myself."

He quoted that statement as saying "in negotiating with either league or the baseball commissioner for rights to broadcast games, CBS will not be in any better position than any other network organization."

He said this applies to the All-Star game, the World Series and the Monday night sports spectacular which is planned for next year.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Yanks Rookie Hurler Wins Big One Against Baltimore

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mel Stottlemyre is one summer replacement who may wind up with a show of his own. And on another network.

The 22-year-old right-hander, whose name looks as if it had been plucked at random from a spilled type case, made his second vital start yesterday for the New York Yankees during Flag Fortnight, and came off with his second victory.

This time he whipped the league-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1. That moved the Yankees to within 2½ games of the Orioles, and started Manager Yogi Berra talking pennant.

A misjudged outfield fly helped the Yankees to their first two runs in the game, and a double case of the outfield staggers figured in the 2-1 victory the Chicago White Sox scored over the Red Sox at Boston.

The Chicago victory moved the second place White Sox to within two games of the top.

The Yankees move on to Chicago now for four games that will wind up the two-week span during which they will have played the Orioles and White Sox 15 straight games.

In other American League games, Harmon Killebrew hit his 42nd homer as the Minnesota Twins trounced the Cleveland Indians 13-2, the Detroit Tigers walloped Kansas City 11-5 and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

Stottlemyre was called up from Richmond in the International League only last Tuesday in a mid-summer move to bolster the suddenly shaky Yankee pitching.

The next day he trimmed the White Sox 7-3, in a complete game. Sunday he went 8⅔ innings — Al Downing came in and got the last out — in the decision over the Orioles.

If things keep on like that, Mel will have a starting job in the World Series in October. That might create one problem —the series is on NBC, and the Yankees were bought last week by CBS.

There were times in the game —the last of the year between the two clubs—when it seemed that both the Yankees and the Orioles were camera shy.

The Orioles got off in front 1-0 on Brooks Robinson's homer in the second, and in the fourth the Yankees had men on first and third with none out and failed to score.

It was still 1-0 going into the seventh, when Oriole starter Milt Pappas had to retire when his right arm stiffened up. Steve Barber came in, and Roger Maris promptly sliced a double to left. He went to third when Tom Tresh singled to deep short. Luis Aparicio got his glove on the ball and would have thrown Maris out at third but he couldn't hold it.

Then with one on, pinch hitter Elston Howard lashed a liner to right. Sam Bowens lost it in the lights which had been turned on in mid-game on an overcast day and played it into a double, with two runs scoring.

The Orioles came back with a double by Jerry Adair, who went to third when Richardson threw too late to catch him on a grounder. Then Earl Robinson flied to Hector Lopez in left and Adair started home after the catch, changed his mind, and was caught off third to kill the threat.

Lopez added a homer in the eighth for the other Yankee run.

Boston center fielder Carl Yastrzemski misjudged flies by Floyd Robinson and Bill Skowron and both went for triples in the game with the White Sox. Skowron singled Robinson home in the first.

Jim Landis tripled to right in the third when Lee Thomas staggered and fell retrieving the ball. Landis scored on a wild pitch by Ed Connolly.

Joel Horlen, with help from Hoyt Wilhelm, got the victory, as the White Sox wound up the season 14-4 over the Red Sox.

Zoilo Versailles also homered for the homer-happy Twins, while Woody Held's homer in the eighth spoiled Jim Grant's bid for a shutout. The Twins swept the three-game series with the Indians, and Grant got his first victory over his old mates in three tries.

Dave Wickersham, traded to the Tigers by the A's before the season, posted his 14th victory, as Don Wert and George Thomas homered. The Athletics hit three homers. Rocky Colavito hit his 29th and Jim Gentile his 19th and 20th.

Willie Kirkland, obtained on waivers last week, hit one of the longest homers ever in Washington's new stadium—a shot that landed in the 50-foot high mezzanine 400 feet from the plate—in the Senators victory. Ed Brinkman also homered and Buster Narum won his eighth game after 10 unsuccessful starts since June 21.

Gandy Sails To Victory For SFYC

Hal McCormack skippered Ed Callan's Gandy to a victory on the Bay yesterday that brought the Sir Thomas Lipton Perpetual Challenge Trophy to the San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere.

McCormack and his efficient crew maneuvered Gandy over the 14.6 mile course in 2 hours 49 minutes and 38 seconds, beating defending champ Bill Gorman and his yacht Haven of the Encinal Yacht Club of the East Bay by 58 seconds.

Eugene Buck of the Corinthian Yacht Club, Tiburon, was sixth in his yacht Mahalo.

THE SAN FRANCISCO YC's Midnight Moonlight Maritime Marathon Saturday night and Sunday morning was won by Floyd Luther of the Richmond Yacht Club in his sloop Windsong. He almost violated the name of the race by completing the 40-mile course at 12:17.35 a.m. yesterday.

Sixty-seven boats splashed in the pleasurable race, which was over by the early hour of 2:17 a.m.

199 Wins Tourney

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Jeannette Bopp of Milwaukee won the Professional Women Bowler's Tournament yesterday with a single-game score of 199 and earned $1,100 in prize money.

Parnelli Jones Triumphs Again

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif. won the 150-mile race for late model stock cars yesterday on the one-mile paved track of the Wisconsin State Fair Park, averaging 91.647 miles per hour in his 1964 Mercury for his fifth straight stock car triumph at the park.

His share of the $18,900 purse was $3,595.

Jones beat Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex. in his 1964 Plymouth by one lap and five seconds. Ruby collected $2,561.

Third in the official standings was Bill Lutz of Chicago in a 1964 Ford, for $1,773, and fourth was Len Sutton of Portland, Ore., in a 1964 Dodger, $1,188.

Rodger Ward of Indianapolis finished fifth in a 1964 Mercury for an $849 shares.

Hornung Leads Green Bay To 34-10 Win Over Giants

By Dick Couch
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung came home and the Green Bay scoreboard came to life again.

Hornung, under suspension throughout the 1963 National Football League season, sparkled in his 1964 home exhibition debut before 42,327 well-wishers Saturday night, leading the Packers past the sputtering New York Giants 34-10.

Hornung, three-time NFL scoring champion, had a hand in 16 of his team's points against the injury-depleted Giants, who played the Packers even in the first half but fell apart in the last 30 minutes.

Hornung tossed a 56-yard scoring pass to Boyd Dowler on the halfback option, converted after each of the Packers' four touchdowns and kicked a pair of field goals.

The Notre Dame alumnus wasn't the only pro to make his points in week-end action involving National and American League teams.

The Cleveland Browns led a Saturday night offensive binge, routing the Los Angeles Rams 56-31 in an NFL exhibition behind the passing of Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski. The San Diego Chargers and Houston Oilers swapped touchdowns at a rapid clip before the Chargers won the AFL test in the final two minutes 44-38.

In other NFL games, the Dallas Cowboys riddled the San Francisco 49ers 34-23; the Minnesota Vikings won their second straight, stunning the St. Louis Cardinals 24-10, and the champion Chicago Bears held off the Washington Redskins 14-13.

Friday night, the Baltimore Colts and Detroit Lions played a 28-28 tie and the Pittsburgh Steelers fell before the revamped Philadelphia Eagles 24-13 in NFL games.

The Kansas City Chiefs edged the Buffalo Bills 24-21 and the Denver Broncos topped the Oakland Raiders 20-7 in AFL activity.

The Boston Patriots and New York Jets, idle over the weekend, have a Tuesday night AFL date at Lowell, Mass.

The Packers broke a 3-3 knot in the third period, recovering a Giant fumble on their 13 and going the distance in e plays. Bart Starr completed three key passes during the bing for the injured Jim Taylor, scored from seven yards out.

Green Bay then overwhelmed the Giants with a 24-point fourth quarter.

Ryan, a former Ram, fired four touchdown passes in the first half and Ninowski hit with two scoring strikes in Cleveland's explosion against Los Angeles. Jimmy Brown, used sparingly, scored another touchdown on a short burst. Rookie Paul Warfield grabbed three touchdown passes and Gary Collins two.

Fullback Keith Kinderman rammed three yards for San Diego's winning touchdown with 1:12 remaining. The score climaxed a 62-yard drive that began when Earl Faison recovered a Houston bobble on the San Diego 38.

Sid Blanks' 104-yard return of the second half kickoff providing the impetus.

The surprisingly potent Vikings, who upended New Yok a week ago, rode the passing arm of Fran Tarkenton and a blitzing defense to their victory over highly-regarded St. Louis. Tarkenton, shaken up and sidelined midway through the third period, came back with 3½ minutes to play and directed Minnesota to two quick touchdowns that put the game out of reach.

The Redskins blew a last-mnute bid to upset the Bears when Rookie John Seedborg missed a 41-yard field goal attempt. Washington fumbles set up both Chicago touchdowns, with Ronny Bull and Joe Marconi scoring from in close.

Christiansen Unimpressed With 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Jack Christiansen said the 49ers were beleaguered by "mistakes and mistakes can be corrected." But Christiansen said he had not been impressed by anything in San Francisco's 34-23 loss to the Dallas Coboys in Saturday night's contest.

The most controversial aspect of the game was the debut of rookie quarterback George Mira. Mira's performance was explosive. He moved the team 83 yards in 17 plays in the final quarter. The flitting quarterback darted through an opening and skittered 28 yards for the touchdown.

Christiansen said, however, that the performance was "below average." The coach pointed out that Mira completed only four out of 16 pass attempts, according to the official statistics. Mira was spectacular, but not completely effective, partly because receivers weren't holding on to his bullet passes.

None of Christiansen's assistants was satisfied with the work of his particular unit.

As far as the game went, there were some bright spots. Mike Lind smashed Dallas defenses for 36 yards in five tries but the scoring definitely favored the Cowboys.

They drove 54 yards in the first quarter to take a 7-0 lead. San Francisco narrowed the score to 7-3 near the end of the quarter with a field goal from 33 yards out.

Dallas scored twice on pass interceptions. The football had bounced out of the hands of 49er receivers each time into the waiting hands of Cowboys. The score climbed to 21-3.

The prettiest play of the game was a 72-yard TD pass from 49er quarterback John Brodie to Bernie Casey.

Christiansen said defensive end Roy Williams may have seriously injured his knee in the game. End Vern Burke sprained a knee and Howard Williams bruised an elbow, but the injuries were believed to be slight.

Billings-Hutchinson Wins Semi-Pro Title

Builders Close Campaign By Blanking Fairfax 7-0

The Billings-Hutchison Builders won their second consecutive Marin Semi-Pro League title yesterday by downing Fairfax Garage 7-0 in a game shortened to five innings because two Garagemen had to leave for work in midafternoon.

Second place Mill Valley did its best to stay in the race by trouncing the Novak Builders of Novato 18-3, but the Merchants needed a B-H loss and lefthander Bobby DeRosa was having none of that.

He allowed Fairfax only two hits and only one Garageman reached second base. He fanned five in the five innings and walked only one.

Meanwhile the Builders were giving him a solid lead with the aid of Fairfax hurler Vince Pallavicini's wildness. They tallied single runs in the first and third innings and iced the game with five in the fourth.

Dick Spackman's two-run triple was the big blow in this frame. The Builders only got four hits in the game, but seven walks by Pallavicini made their job easier. Vince also lost sole possession of the league RBI lead when Mike Dunne knocked in two to tie him at 14.

3-Way Tie In Softball Tournament

Three teams are tied for first place as the fifth annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament passed the halfway mark with a tripleheader yesterday at Memorial Park.

Fairchild Conductor, Perry's Delicatessen and Hamilton Field are all perched at the top of the standings with 2-0 records.

Barring a miracle, Indian Valley Lumber (1-2), Sohner Tree Service (0-2) and Capella Brothers (0-3) are out of title contention.

The round-robin tourney will continue tomorrow night when two of the leaders, Hamilton Field and Fairchild, collide at 6:30 o'clock.

The tournament is scheduled to conclude with a doubleheader on Sunday, Aug. 23. However, if Perry's and Hamilton are still in contention for first or second place after Sunday's tilts, the two teams will replay their 3-3 tie of last Friday on Monday, August 24.

Yesterday's large crowds in the Hub City were treated to some superb pitching as all three games were shutouts.

Hamilton's Dave Coleman blanked slump-ridden Sohner Tree Service on four hits in the opener, for a 3-0 win. Fairchild's Bob Brown tossed a two-hitter against Capella Brothers to notch a 6-0 verdict in the second game, and Jay Leatherwood whitewashed Indian Valley on four hits in the final game as Perry's scored three times in the seventh to post a 3-0 victory.

The defensive play of the tournament was turned in by the Fairchild infield when first-baseman Ed Schulze speared a ground ball with two Capella runners on base and turned it into a triple play. Schulze tagged out the batter half way down the line and then threw to third from where the two Capella runners were caught in run-downs.

In Saturday's action, Indian Valley tallied eight times in the first two innings and then held off several Capella rallies to post a 10-6 victory.

Raider Tackle Is Sidelined

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)A severe shoulder injury has sidelined the Oakland Raiders' defensive tackle Dave Costa for at least 10 days.

Costa was hospitalized after he suffered the injury while playing Denver Friday night.

Club spokesmen said yesterday he would be out of next Sunday's game against Buffalo and possibly a game with Houston the next Saturday in Las Vegas.

Rookie Rex Mirich was designated as his replacement.

Mill Valley Nine Whips Novak 18-3

Frank Ubhaus ripped four hits for the second straight week to pace the Mill Valley Merchants to a 19-hit, 18-3 pasting of the Novak Builders of Novato yesterday, but the Merchants were eliminated from title contention by the Billings-Hutchison win over Fairfax.

Ubhaus laced two triples and two singles, drove in four runs and tallied four as he boosted his league-leading batting average to .500.

Novak pitcher John Dolinsek took a 3-1 lead into the bottom of the fifth inning yesterday, but he emerged without it as the Merchants ripped him for four runs.

They were just warming up, though, for the next round Dolinsek was battered for six more. Ron Grayson relieved Dolinsek and held Mill Valley to just two runs in the seventh, but they combed him for another five in a merry eighth.

Walt Keenan cracked a grand slam homer and a single for five Mill Valley RBIs and Sandy Slack had a three-run homer.

Mill Valley will end its season either next Sunday or the one after against the Tiburon Sox, whose 21-15 victory over the Merchants turned out to be the decisive game in the race. San Anselmo must also play Tiburon and the scheduling of these two games will be the subject of a meeting tonight among the cotchies involved and league commissioner Hal Fischer.

MICKEY HURT AGAIN BUT YANKS WIN

Oft-injured Mickey Mantle had to et out yesterday's crucial game at Baltimore, but the Yankees turned back the first-place Orioles behind rookie Mel Stottlemyre's five hitter 3-1. In Stottlemyre's debut last week against Chicago, Mantle blasted two homers, but he jammed a knee Friday and Elston Howard had to pick up the slack with a two-run pinch double yesterday. Cassius Clay Group Slates Big Pow Wow With WBA

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Representattives of the group sponsoring heavyweight champion Cassius Clay have accepted an invitation to appear before the World Boxing Association.

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager for the sponsors, said yesterday in a statement that he attorney Gordon Davidson and other members of the group will appear "out of courtesy . . . and to keep boxing on the highest possible level."

The WBA has scheduled a hearing at its annual meetiing starting Aug. 26 at Norfolk, Va. on a return bout between Clay and Sonny Liston.

The fight is scheduled in mid-November at an undecided site.

The WBA does not rank Liston in the top 10 challengers and has been critical of a contract between Clay and Intercontinental Promotions signed before the February fight in which Clay became champion.

Intercontinental was given the right to promote Clay's next fight if he defeated Liston, who owned a part of Intercontinental at the time but reportedly has sold it.

Faversham said "It should be pointed out, however, that all phases of the Louisville Sponsoring Group's and Clay's part in the first Clay-Liston fight have been thoroughly investigated by a United States Senate investigating committee and that the LSG was commended by the Senate committee for its actions in handling Clay's boxing career."

The Rascals: Let's Reform Them —or, Drive Them Out!

If I were a story-book character, instead of just a character, I'd tell you good people how my dear old dad used to bounce me on his knee, and preach to me the glories of the Righteous Way. I think, actually, he bounced me on my head a time or two, while properly provoked. But, somewhere in the process, I did get the intended message—and this is why I travel the right road. (Please don't draw any political implications here. I'm much too occupied to fight, argue, explain, or deny.)

I don't want to infer—Heaven forbid—I'm embracing a holier-than-thou attitude, while ram-roding the activities of Ames Ford under the tutelar eye of Doug Cowan. No, it's an awareness of realism which directs me the right way. Every dealer, manager, and salesman who first tests his big toe into the rather forbidding waters of the automobile business has but two ways to make money—big money.

How to make that big dough? Two ways, and two ways, only. Go at it huckly-buck, cutting every curve, employing every trick and gimmick, pack every deal, con the poor customer and your own bank. Oh, will the loot pour in! Pour the heat on, and the stream of gold gets wider and brighter. Never thought it was this easy, did you? Will it ever end? Yes! Hope you had the foresight to have passport and ticket to Rio on the ready.

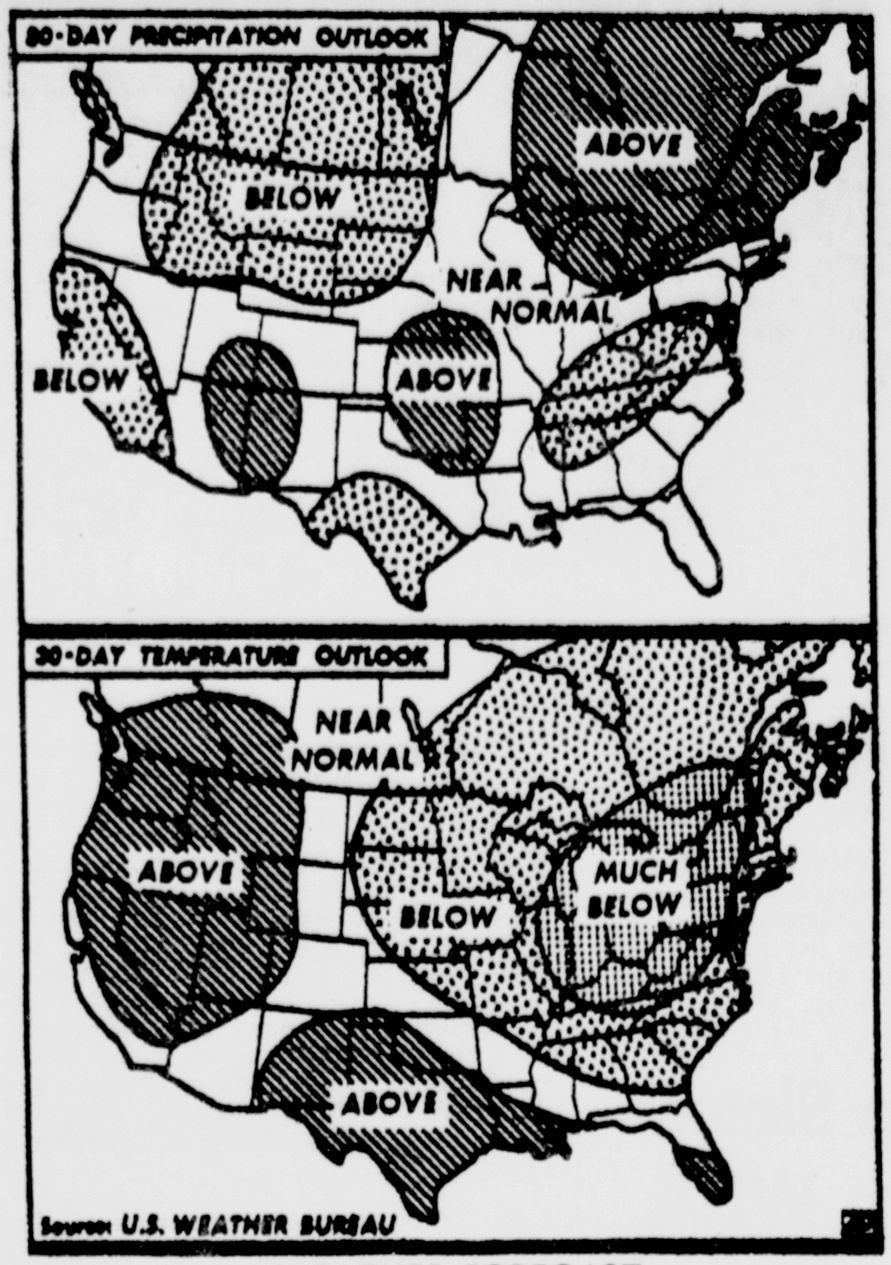

The other way to ultimate success is a lot slower, but the road is so straight and true, the traveler will never get lost along the way. It's an awfully smooth ride along this road. I know. We've been traveling it for a long time at Ames Ford. And, when we take these overseas trips, we buy tickets both ways, 'cause we're not afraid to come back. We drive openly down any street, and bask in warm smiles and friendly waves. It's a nice feeling when you travel this road. I recommend it, without reservation.

Doug Cowan and I have known—and still know—characters who are totally unequipped by nature or heredity (or, maybe their fathers dropped them once too often) to do anything legitimately. I'd be willing to wager some of these guys, if offered a guaranteed income in six figures annually to run a dealership profitably, would choose the devious road of the schlacht systems. They just couldn't cope with the monotony of satisfied customers and steady prosperity.

This type watches an outfit like Ames Ford advertise bargain prices—exact prices and terms—deliver as advertised—month after month, and turn green with envy as the profits materialize over the long haul. He watches all this, retires to his sewer, and belches forth the darndest conglomeration of double-talk, evasions, and impure fiction you can imagine. He then pays some guy to bunch up this messy garbage, buys space in the newspaper and has the gall to assume enough naive readers will swallow it to make him rich, quick.

Even after almost 20 years in this business, I just can't imagine how you'd cope with a potential customer who responded to this come-on tripe. A guy who dishes out garbage in job-lots like this type of dealer must have a strong enough stomach at that point, I'm sure. If awareness sets in, the poor, misguided customer is merely insulted—again—and shown the door.

In principle, we deplore regulation by legislation. At best, laws cannot possibly be so all-encompassing as to include every devious trick of the pitchman. Much more effective is annihilation by starvation. Read his ads, by all means, and enjoy a big laugh! But, don't go near him! Soon, he'll shrivel up and blow away.

WEATHER FORECAST

Below-normal precipitation and near-normal temperatures are the outlook in Bay Area weather during the next 30 days, according to this weather map prepared from information supplied by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

LBJ Committee Aides Announced

Ten committee appointments were announced today by the Johnson-for-President Committee of Marin.

Co-Chairmen Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of San Anselmo and the Rev. Wesley Baker of San Rafael made these appointments:

Mrs. Helen Merret of Kentfield, campaign coordinator; A. L. Nieri of Novato, treasurer; Neil B. Little of Mill Valley and Douglas Quiett of Marin City, co-chairmen of precinct coordination; Arthur L. Brown of Marin City and John Cascone of Greenbrae, co-chairmen of speakers bureau.

Mrs. Ruth Lederman of Kentfield, chairman of key women committee; Mrs. Helen Flake of Sausalito, chairman of volunteers; Mrs. Ann Kroeter of Novato, office manager at Democratic headquarters; and Mrs. Susan Forest of Novato, chairman of publicity committee.

The Johnson - for - President office is located at Democratic headquarters in the old Pacific Gas & Electric building, Second and Brooks Streets, San Rafael.

Sausalito Council To Meet Two Times

Sausalito city councilmen will meet tonight and tomorrow. At 8 p.m. today they will hold a continued hearing on an application from Sausalito Properties Inc. for a conditional use permit to fill a portion of the company's property between Johnson and Napa streets bordering Richardson Bay. This is the sole subject on the agenda.

Tomorrow the council will hold its regular meeting, beginning at 8 p.m. On the agenda is a hearing on an appeal by United Sand and Gravel Co. requesting permission to continue to sell sand and gravel on A. G. Schoonmaker Co. Inc. property. The reques was denied by the planning commission.

Receives Degree

George Ernest Dimitroff of Mill Valley received his doctor of philosophy in mathematics Saturday at the University of Oregon. He will leave this week with his wife, Sue, and daughter to go to Illinois where he has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of mathematics at Knox College, Galesburg. Mimitroff is son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dimitroff of Mill Valley.

Automakers Present Unions Wage Offers

DETROIT (AP) — A wide range of economic improvements, including higher wages, larger pensions and earlier retirement, were offered the United Auto Workers today by the industry's Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

For these, the companies proposed three-year contracts to replace similar ones expiring two weeks from today.

There was no comment from union sources, pending study, but UAW President Walter P. Reuther forecast beforehand the offers "will not be realistic."

Increased vacation and holiday pay also were offered by the automakers, along with a proposal to refund the tuition of any employees furthering their education through spare-time studies.

The offers, presented separately, virtually paralleled each other, as first company proposals did in 1961. The union never has accepted as final a first offer.

And Louis G. Seaton, G.M. vice president-personnel, told the union there was room for "give and take within the dimensions of our economic proposal," adding:

"We are flexible. If the UAW wishes to shift the emphasis from one area to another, or to propose modifications within the dimensions, ... we will examine their suggestions."

All three companies limited their offers to economic areas. No mention was made of at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contracts, and an area in which the union has raised some of its most strenuous demands thus far.

The counter-offers came after the UAW began polling its membership, seeking strike authorization if negotiators want to use it.

Ford proposed to continue the so-called annual improvement factor under which hourly rated workers receive an automatic 2.5 per cent yearly wage increase to compensate them for cost-saving technological advances-automation.

GM said its offer would raise wages 6 to 13 cents hourly over a three-year period, but did not specifically mention annual improvement factor.

Chrysler estimated its offer would add 6 to 12 cents hourly.

Jury Trial Slated In Embezzling Case

Jury trial for Farrell Eugene (Gene) Kissinger, 38, charged with embezzling $16,000 in money and merchandise from the Black Market in San Anselmo, was scheduled today in Marin Superior Court for Nov. 10.

Kissinger, former manager of the store at 60 Redhill Avenue, allegedly took the items between November of 1963 and last May 21. He resides in San Francisco and formerly lived at 555 Canal Street, San Rafael.

Senate Committee Rejects Two Health Care Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The senate finance committee today voted down two proposals, including one by president Lyndon B. Johnson, to provide health care for the elderly under social security.

The administration bill would have provided for a maximum of 45 days paid hospitalization, some nursing home care, nursing home visits and medical checkups. It would have been financed by higher social security taxes.

Also rejected was an alternate plan by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, (D-Conn.) using the same financial base, it would have provided the same hospital care as the administration bill but did not include the nursing home services.

In other developments:

Adjournment—House speaker John McCormack, Mass., said the house would recess by Friday for the democratic national convention next week. Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield said congress would have to return after the convention to finish work on the legislative calendar.

Wilderness—Senate and House conferees reported agreement on the wilderness bill setting aside some federal lands in their primitive state.

Corte Madera Council Budget Vote Slated

Adoption of the budget and setting of the tax rate will be considered today by the Corte Madera Town Council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Also on the agenda is adoption of a community antenna television system ordinance and the filling of three vacancies on town commissions.

Marin Women

MRS. HAROLD KEATON of Marin Country Club Estates prepares to send a ball down the lane (see left). She bowls over 20 hours a week in four separate leagues.

READY . . . AIM . . . STRIKE!—The Thursday morning women's bowling league at Nave Lanes enjoys its favorite sport. Ten teams of three women each are among the 1,957 women bowlers in Marin who participate in at least 21 games a season in league play and are listed in the Bowlers Blue Book. More than 700 women participate in the winter league play at the Lanes, a competition that will begin next month. Nowadays nearly as many women as men in Marin choose bowling as their sport.

How The Ladies Bowl 'Em Over

TEAMS pause in a moment of suspense as single pin totters at left.

DOTTIE KEATON sends ball down the lane with expertise—she finds the sport is relaxing and a good family activity. She and her husband are in a mixed doubles league, and their son Richard also is a bowler. Mrs. Keaton, one of the top bowlers at the Ignacio lanes and a director of the Marin County Women's Bowlers Assn., participated in the state tournament in Santa Rosa in the spring and in the National Women Bowlers meet in Minneapolis in May. Pictured at right, Mrs. Tom McGrath checks the score sheet with Mrs. Roy Olson and Mrs. Frank Sabbatini as Mrs. John Vallee gets set to try her skill.

YOUNGSTERS TWIST while mothers bowl—The Lanes provides free baby sitting service for mothers who have pre-school age children. The nursery is equipped with a record player, drawing boards and other arts and crafts to entertain them. Their mothers enjoy the relaxing sport during the two hour bowling session while the children are being supervised in play.

Mary Jo Grant To Be Bride At Hamilton Wedding Rite

The engagement of Mary Jo Grant of Novato to Alfred Anthony Lojacono has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pirie Grant of Novato.

Mary Jo, a graduate of Novato High School, is the sister of Patricia Grant of Berkeley, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Ossenkop of Nebraska.

Alfred, an airman first class at Hamilton Air Force Base, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lojacono of Gowanda, N.Y. and the brother of Mrs. Jeanette Pilon and Fred and Sam Lojacono of New York.

The young couple will be married at the Hamilton Air Force Base chapel on Sept. 12.

Jana Fleming Bride-Elect

Mrs. Gai Fleming of Belvedere Island announced the engagement of her daughter, Jana Lee, to Charles Monte of San Anselmo, at a dinner party at the Dock Restaurant in Tiburon on Saturday.

Jana was graduated from Zweigman's Medical Secretarial School and Redwood High School. She is employed as a secretary at Marin General Hospital. Dwayne Fleming of Studio City is her brother. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cogdell of Berkeley.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alice Monte of San Anselmo and D. Frank Monte of Sleepy Hollow. He was graduated from San Francisco College of Mortuary Science and San Rafael High School, and attended College of Marin. Charles is employed by his father at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo. He has one sister, Mrs. Dennis McCarthy of Tahoe Valley. His grandmothers are Mrs. Marie Pagliano of San Francisco and Mrs. Katie Brown of San Anselmo.

The wedding is planned Oct. 17 at St. Anselm's Church.

One Of The Best 'Doers' Is The Term For Katy Louchheim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Katie Louchheim is one of the best "doers" in the country, according to President Johnson.

Four years ago she was the Democrats' top lady politician: vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Two and a half years ago she became the top ranking woman in the State Department as the first female to be appointed deputy assistant Secretary of State (for public affairs).

Last year she kept the rank but changed jobs to head the office of Community Advisory Services (CAS) which combats the image of the foreign service officer as a tweedy snob in an ivy league suit.

KATHIE LOUCHHEIM

SHE ALSO WRITES poetry. Successfully. For Money.

She began to develop this latter talent by composing holiday poems for her husband and two daughters, but she wasn't avidly interested in writing until the Washington Post picked her verse for its 1947 Christmas issue. Since then she said she has been writing "on planes, trains, in the middle of the night. . . . Whenever inspiration strikes.

Sometimes the brainstorm comes as she is walking to work from her Georgetown home where she lives with her husband, a private investment counselor. But only this first line is easy and remains unrevised.

Finishing the rest of the poem "is like digging ditches," she said in an interview. "Every line must be perfected into sharp, incisive words, with good rhythm. Each word exists independently yet is part of an orchestra of words."

POET LOUCHHEIM, whose first volume of poetry, "The Transient View," will be published next fall, said her ideas "come out of an emotion, but the process after that is entirely cerebral."

Using a tree as an illustration, Mrs. Louchheim explained that "the tree trunk is the feeling, but its growth, the leaves, is what pushes out and out."

To Katie the realm of poetry lies "beyond ordinary habits of living, beyond the usual things and responsibilities, beyond fluid and static relationships."

In fact, she said, a good poem should completely shake up its reader "by intensifying an experience, by showing another dimension" which the reader has never seen.

It also leads the reader to question himself on certain issues, she said, "to ask himself if he has time to think about the problem, or if he should make time." The poem is therefore both an experience itself and a tool "which motivates other experiences," she said.

At the State Department, however, it is not poet Louchheim but supervisor Louchheim reporting for duty. She has plenty to do.

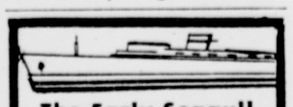

She helped form the CAS last October because she was worried about the image the American public has of its foreign service officer, and the "often erroneous ideas he has about the people he represents."

To lessen this gap, Mrs. Louchheim now talks each year with the 2,000 officers who come home after their overseas stints. She tells the diplomats what the American people are thinking and then tries to get them to spend their vacation not in Washington but back home.

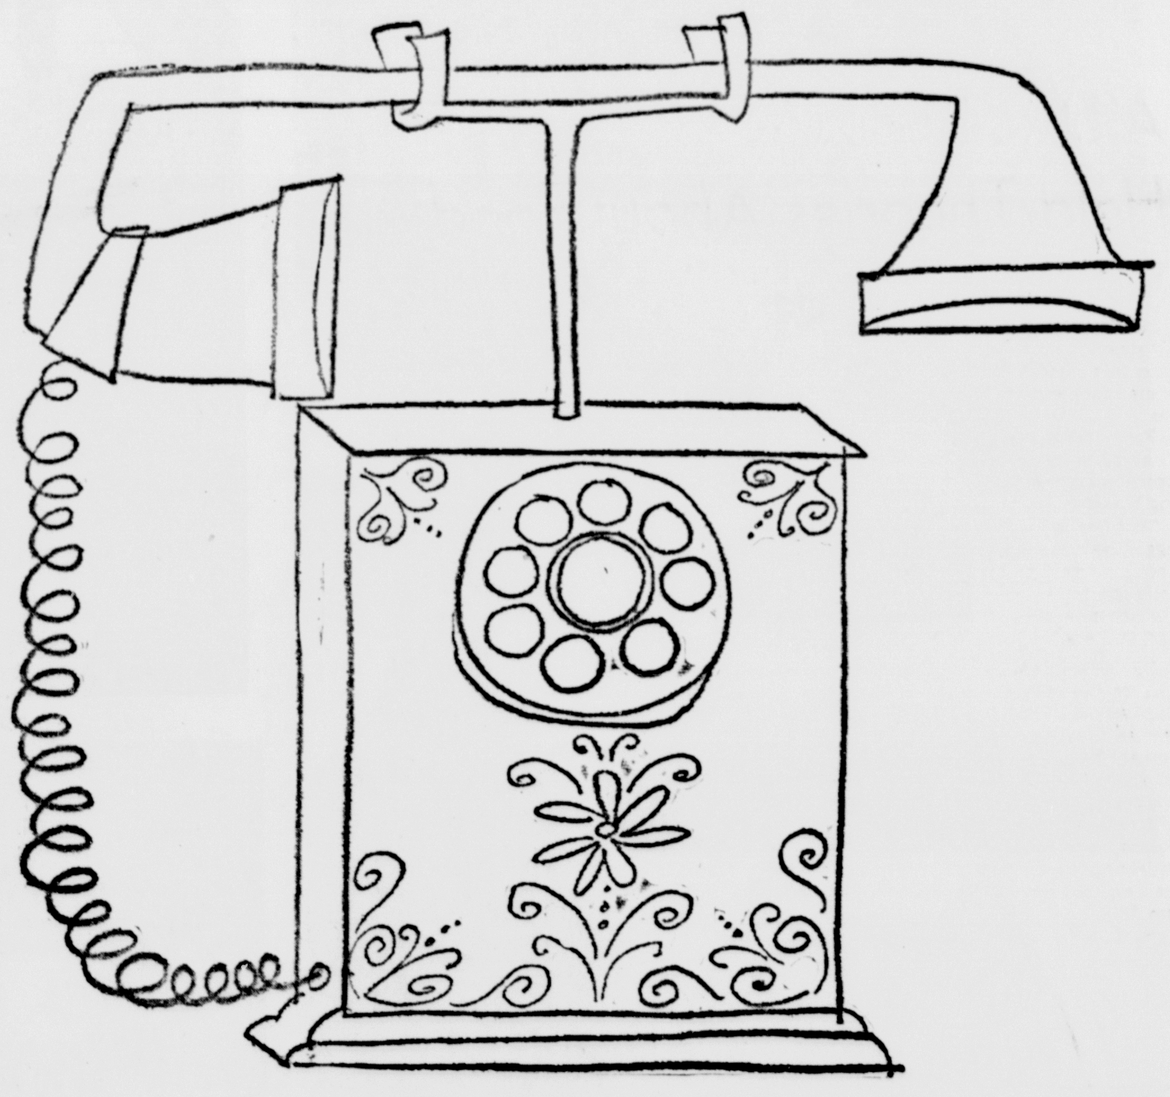

This "first hand relearning," she said, helps to break down the sense of remoteness between the officer and the public. The hometown folks are not intimidated by his title and speak frankly and honestly with him. The officer benefits by learning first-hand what is actually happening.

THE CAS HAS a lot of other functions. It aids the wives of officers overseas and tries to increase the role women play in international affairs.

If the wife of an officer, for example, wants some phonograph records to play during lunchtime at a local school, the CAS will try to get some.

A Disbeliever In Commonly Held Theories About Food—

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Dr. Robert S. Goodhart ranks as a nutritionist who is a candid disbeliever in some commonly held food theories.

For instance, there's the widely accepted theory that a person should start the day with a filling breakfast.

"That'st to sell cereal and eggs," said the physician. "We should promote good diet throughout the day. There are thousands who miss breakfast and still are well nourished."

DR. GOODHART is for the four or five meals a day plan because, as he said in an interview, "it has been demonstrated that if you take certain amounts of food and divide them you get more utilization."

More meals do not mean more pounds, he added. "We've found if feedings are divided more, the result is more muscle and less fat."

GOODHART, who has written three books on nutrition, including one which is a standard medical text, also challenges the cereal-egg pattern as standard morning menu.

"Breakfast could be kippers, as it is in some countries, or steak," he said.

Then there's Goodhart's feeling about milk in the diet. "It is not the perfect food," said the physician.

"Milk is for calves and babies. How do we know whether by forcing a lot of milk down our teen-agers' throats that we are not laying the groundwork for heart disease later in life?"

He explained that whole milk has a high animal fat content — a fat which some members of the medical profession link with high cholesterol content in the body and cholesterol's connection in turn with circulatory diseases.

GOODHART DECRIED the habit of some parents of the "now drink your milk" school who figure children will thrive on it "at the expense" of other foods.

Milk has many of the vitamins and minerals the body needs, but too much can spoil the appetite for other things also needed for health, he said.

"FOR CHILDREN, I would put a ceiling of four glasses of whole milk a day," he said. "For adults, two glasses, and that skimmed milk. This would be even less if cheese or other dairy products are included."

He said children should be offered a wide variety of foods if they're to keep eating variety when they're grown.

"WHEN KIDS are little they will eat almost anything," said Goodhart. "By the time they're 9 or 10 their lifetime eating habits are pretty well shaped." That's why he advocates nutrition instruction in grade school right along with the three R's and such.

The physician has just had published a specialized book in nutrition — "The Teen-Ager's Guide to Diet and Health." In it, he says the most important years are the early years for what young people eat has much to do with what they will be in their 30s, 40s and beyond, and also what to do with the health of their children.

GOODHART IS a graduate of the New York University College of Medicine, has served on its faculty, was chief of the industrial feeding program of the war food administration during World War II, has served as chairman of the Nutrition Division of the Welfare and Health Council of New York City and now is president and scientific director of the National Vitamin Foundation. The latter is an industry - supported organization underwriting research in nutrition.

Kathy Rayburn Recites Vows In San Francisco Ceremony

At an afternoon ceremony yesterday at Holy Trinity Cathedral in San Francisco Kathy Rayburn exchanged vows with Lawrence Harper of Berkeley in a double ring rite.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rayburn of San Anselmo, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white organza gown. Her maid of honor was her sister Barbara Rayburn of Berkeley. Other attendants were Suellen Plover of Berkeley, Ronaele Williams of Oakland and Virginia Harper of Orinda, the bridegroom's sister. They wore aqua linen dresses.

Williams Lower of Oakland served as best man and ushers were Daniel Strauss of Oakland, Richard May of Daly City and Nick Sokol of Santa Rosa.

A reception for the couple was held at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. After a Lake Tahoe wedding trip the couple will live in Berkeley, where the bridegroom is a candidate for the Ph.D degree at the University of California.

The bride was graduated from Dominican, Santa Rosa Junior College and University of California. She is an assistant buyer at Capwell's in Oakland.

She is the sister of Barbara, Vicki and Steven Rayburn. Her grandmother is Mrs. Olga Ivanoff of Orlando, Fla.

Lawrence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harper of Orinda. He was graduated from Acalanes High School there and University of California. Virginia and Robert Harper are his sister and brother, and Mrs. T. C. McCure of Orinda is his grandmother.

Jane Kirkpatrick Is Bride In St. John's Church Rite

At an afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. John's Church in Ross Jane Elizabeth Kirkpatrick exchanged nuptial vows with Paul Russell Duden of Portland, Ore.

The Rev. Harold Hallett officiated at the wedding, for which the bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Edwin Kirkpatrick of Ross, was given in marriage by her father.

Jane's gown was a floor length white silk organza with a scroll pattern of lace applique on the bodice and skirt which ended in a chapel length train.

Her maid of honor was Diane Greenshields of Los Altos, whose dress was floor length moss green silk organza in the empire style. The other attendants were Barbara Rudy of Kentfield, Jill Sigler of San Rafael, Elizabeth Duden and Mrs. Michael McKelligon, both of Portland, and Jane Brown of Pendleton, Ore. Their dresses were similar to the maid of honor's in an azure blue shade.

Stephen Duden of Portland was best man, and the ushers were Richard Acarregui, William Thomas Casey, Michael McKelligon and Ralph Rihhernour, all of Portland, and William Bolger of San Francisco, and Nelson Frederick Teren of Palo Alto.

A reception was given at the Meadow Club following the nuptials. The couple will take a wedding trip to the Northwest and make their home in Eugene, Ore. where the bridegroom is attending law school at University of Oregon.

Jane was graduated from the Katharine Branson School and University of Oregon. She is the sister of Mrs. Richard Wooster of Cloverdale and Mrs. Harry Izmirlian of Syracuse, N.Y.

Paul is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Pennoyer Duden of Portland and the brother of Mrs. McKelligan, Stephen and Elizabeth Duden. He was graduated from Lincoln High School and University of Oregon.

Mill Valley Teacher Is Wed At A Ceremony In Larchmont

Sabra Wells Brown, who teaches kindergarten at the Tamalpais Valley School, became the bride of William H. Johnston yesterday at noon in the Larchmont Avenue Church, Larchmont, N.Y.

MRS. W. H. JOHNSTON

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Travis Brown of Larchmont, was given in marriage by her father in the double ring ceremony performed by Dr. Ralph B. Nesbitt.

Her full length wedding gown of white silk organza was fashioned on princess lines with a chapel train.

Mrs. Melvin W. Searles Jr. of Saigon, South Vietnam, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Donalee Fey of San Francisco and Mesdames Stuart Lowenthal of Durham, N.C., and Kenneth Pollock of Corning, N.Y.

They wore maize chiffon sheaths with cummerbunds and sashes of matching satin.

Ring bearer was the bride's nephew, Neil P. Searls of Saigon.

His brother, Dr. Renner M. Johnston of Denver, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Robert Renner Anderson of Bound Brook, N.J., Lester Godwin of Winchester, Mass., and Albert Predmore of De Witt, N.Y.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Oriental Beach Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y.

On returning from their wedding trip to Nantucket the young couple will live in San Francisco.

The new Mrs. Johnston was graduated from Wheelock College in Boston, Mass. She will continue teaching at the Tamalpais Valley School.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Johnston of Hartsdale, N.Y., was graduated from Harvard and received a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce.

He is a transportation analyst in the bureau of transportation research of the Southern Pacific Company in San Francisco.

Today is Monday, Aug. 17, the 230th day of 1964 with 136 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Mars and Venus. The evening star is Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1790, the federal capitol was moved from New York City to Philadelphia.

In 1807, Robert Fulton's steamboat, the Clermont, made its first trip up the Hudson River.

In 1915, a hurricane hit Galveston, Tex., killing 275 persons.

In 1933, Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees set a record when he played his 1,308th consecutive game.

A thought for the day—English novelist Charles Dickens said: "Keep up appearances whatever you do."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Playing Your Hand Well Beats Complaining In Bridge Game

One of the advantages of living in a free country is that you can bid your hand as you please.

If an opponent doesn't like your bidding you can tell him to go climb a tree. (Players who can't climb shouldn't complain about an opponent's bidding.)

North dealer
East-West vulnerable

Declarer won the first trick with dummy's queen of hearts and beamed with approval of what he saw in the dummy. There wasn't a thing to worry about, he decided, as he led a trump from dummy.

STEPPED UP

East stepped up with the ace of clubs and shot back his singleton spade. West took the ace of spades and returned a spade, whereupon East's ruff defeated the contract.

South was overwhelmed by West's temidity. "Eight spades in his hand," South complained, "and he got up enough nerve to bid one spade.

"Whoever taught him to bid was taking money under false pretenses. Why, I have a five-week-old puppy that would know enough to bid four spades on that hand!"

FOUR SPADES

It's true that West could make four spades, but South could make five clubs by playing the hand well.

What's more, South could score more for making his contract than for proving that West hadn't bid enough.

South should meet the only possible threat by discarding a spade from dummy. At the second trick declarer cashes the ace of diamonds, then ruffs a diamond to lead the ace of hearts.

OVER-RUFF

West ruffs, and dummy over-ruffs. Declarer ruffs another diamond and leads the king of hearts.

If West can ruff again, dummy can over-ruff and there will be no further threat with the removal of the last low trump from the East-West hands.

Actually, West cannot ruff the king of hearts. Declarer discards a spade from dummy, and the hand is over. The defenders can get their two black aces, but nothing else.

QUESTION

You are dealer, and vulnerable against non-vulnerable opponents.

You hold:
♠ A J 8 7 6 5 3 2
♥ 7
♦ 9 4 3
♣ 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

Don't make shutout bids when you are vulnerable and the opponents are not. Reverse the vulnerability, and you should bid four spades.

NOTICE OF DATE FIXED FOR SUBMITTING ARGUMENTS ON SCHOOL DISTRICT MEASURES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at an election to be held in FAIRFAX SCHOOL DISTRICT of Marin County, California, on November 3, 1964, there will be submitted to the voters the following measures:

1. Shall the Fairfax School District incur a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $500,000.00 for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes (which are hereby united and shall be voted upon as one single proposition) to wit:

(a) The purchasing of school lots.

(b) The building or purchasing of school buildings.

(c) The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation, or repairs.

(d) The repairing, restoring or rebuilding of any school building damaged, injured, or destroyed by fire or other public calamity.

(e) The supplying of school buildings and grounds with furniture, equipment or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature.

(f) The permanent improvement of the school grounds.

(g) The carrying out of the projects or purposes authorized in Section 15811 of the Education Code?

2. Shall the governing board of the Fairfax School District be authorized (1) to accept and expend an apportionment from the State of California under and subject to the provisions of Chapter 10 of Division 14 of the Education Code, which amount is subject to repayment as provided by said chapter, or (2) to enter into an agreement or agreements with the State pursuant to Section 19579.1 of the Education Code, which will at the time of such agreement or agreements (or at the time of any subsequent act of the governing board, or for which it is responsible, contemplated or permitted thereby) commit the district to a total expenditure in connection with all such agreements of not more than $500,000.00, or both?

and that

Arguments for or against said measures may be submitted to the County Superintendent of Schools at his office at the Civic Center, San Rafael, California, not later than September 11, 1964, which has been determined by the County Superintendent of Schools under the authority of Section 1462 of the Education Code to be a reasonable date based upon the time reasonably necessary to prepare and submit the arguments. No argument shall exceed 300 words in length. Arguments may be submitted by the governing board of the district or a member or members authorized by it, any individual voter, any bona fide association of citizens or any combination of such voters and citizens.

Pursuant to sections 1461 to 1463 of the Education Code, one argument for and one argument against each measure will be selected for printing and distribution to the voters with the card notice of election. Preference and priority in selection will be given to arguments of the following, in the order named:

(1) A member or members authorized by the governing board.

(2) Bona fide associations of citizens.

(3) Individual voters.

Prison Arts, Crafts Show Slated Aug. 29

The annual arts and crafts show at San Quentin Prison which attracts thousands of visitors will be held Aug. 29 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the prison recreation hall.

The one-day show, open to the public, will feature the art and handicraft of more than 100 inmates.

Ribbons will be awarded to winning entries and the works will be up for sale on a first come, first served basis.

Judging will be held Aug. 28 by a team of judges consisting of Roy De Forest of Richmond, Armado Gonzales of San Francisco, Howard Brodie of Palo Alto, William Morehouse of Mill Valley, David Simpson of Point Richmond, Mrs. Maria Stafford of Novato, and Ken Stanford, El Sobrante.

The art gallery will display paintings, sculpture, architectural design and craft work including metal, wood and leather crafts and weaving and crocheting.

2 Teen-Age Hitch Hikers Arrested

Two New York teen-agers who said they were hitch-hiking their way across the country during summer vacation were arrested by Marin County sheriff's deputies Saturday and booked into juvenile hall on charges of being without parental control and having no visible means of support.

Deputies picked up the youths, both 16, at the west end of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. Both carried packs and bags, and gave their addresses as being in the Bronx.

The boys had $1.50 in cash between them, deputies said.

Two Sailors Take Part In 'Battle'

Two Navy men from Marin County participated in simulated battle operations off the California coast recently.

Airman William R. Atkinson Jr., son of William R. Atkinson of 12 Sienna Way, San Rafael, served with Fighter Squadron 92 during the operation.

Fireman David G. Wallace, son of Harvey G. Wallace of 1633 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was aboard the heavy cruiser St. Paul.

$225 In Loot Taken From Boat

Items valued at $225 were stolen from a San Rafael man's boat while it was berthed last week, he told San Rafael police.

Perry R. Dodson of Apt. 13, 455 Canal Street, said someone entered his locked boat, berthed behind 430 Canal Street, between 4 p.m. Wednesday and 2 p.m. Thursday.

Missing were a $100 pair of binoculars, a $75 AM-FM radio and a $37 set of socket wrenches, as well as a bottle of whiskey and a case of beer.

Students Show Of Art To End

A three-day show of art works by youngsters at St. Vincent's School for Boys, San Rafael, will end tomorrow.

It is the climax of a six-week course taught by Sister Mary Bernice, OP, to pupils from grades one through seven.

The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Supervisors Will Explore Aged Public Housing Plan

The question of public housing projects for the elderly will be explored carefully tomorrow by the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Proposals have been made to have a housing measure on the Nov. 3 ballot.

The board meeting is set to start at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

The board will also discuss formation of a Marin Transit District, which also may be presented to the voters in November. According to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, the last date for putting things on the ballot will be Sept. 4 and a special hearing will first have to be called on the transit question on Sept. 3 or 4.

A committee has been working on the needs of housing for the elderly, seeking ways both public and private agencies could provide the specialized low and moderate cost housing needed.

The board is also scheduled to call for bids for the first phase development of Paradise Beach Park near Tiburon and to act on final payment for the first phase of the Stanford Research Institute report.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows has asked that the county refuse the final payment until the research firm has made more studies on recreation-centered industries and fields concerned with water resources.

Two complaints will be before the board, from the County Building Trades Council and the Associated Home Builders, Inc., about the new county policy providing stiff penalties for discrimination in hiring on county contracts.

The complaint is that only prime contractors are covered, and that these often have no control over the activities of sub-contractors.

The matter of open area zoning will again be up for discussion, with a letter to the board from the Marin Municipal Water District asking that some other zoning be applied to the district.

The supervisors will consider a proposal for a new form of blanket personal liability and property damage insurance with coverage up to one million dollars, but with a $25,000 deductible clause.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency has called for a new meeting of all local agencies concerned with problems in Marin City, and board members will be expected to respond.

The question of Bolinas zoning, held over from last week, will be taken up, as will proposed road width lines for North San Pedro Road and a freeway agreement for the proposed project through Novato.

In 1961 Hurricane Carla smashed into the Texas and Louisiana gulf coast causing insured property damage totaling $100 million.

NAMED TO POST—Walter E. Zurcher, owner of the San Rafael Toy Shop, has been named vice chairman of the 1964 United Crusade Campaign in Marin County Sept. 14-Oct. 31. Zurcher, a longtime Crusade volunteer, formerly was chairman of the business division in San Rafael.

Most bogs begin as glacier-gouged lakes or ponds which, over the centuries, fill with decaying organic matter — microscopic aquatic plants, mosses, shrubs and trees.

British Still Turning Up War Explosives

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE

LONDON (WPS) — "There's enough stuff down there to keep us going indefinitely," this correspondent was told by Lt. Cmdr. Jack Rea of the British Royal Navy.

He was referring to the arsenal of explosive war weapons embedded in British beaches and building sites which still does not seem to diminish 19 years after World War II. Nor does the tally of discoveries waver, curiously enough; it remains at about 11,000 major items a year.

There is constant work for disposal squads such as the team of experts headed by Rea. I went to see him following the most recent discovery.

It turned out that a mechanical digger working at one of the big building operations now going on here had unearthed a 100-pound bomb, a relic of the wartime blitz on London. Police thought it looked highly dangerous and, since it was within feet of Mansion House station, they halted the tube.

The Army bomb disposal squad which arrived to cope with the weapon announced that it was only a phosphorous bomb. The men calmly hoisted it into a tank of water on the back of an Army truck and drove it away.

This was just a sample of the hundreds of war weapons that are constantly turning up in Britain. Only a few days earlier there was the discovery on a beach in Jersey, one of the islands in the English Channel, of 25 Phials of chemical warfare gases—some of the type that attacks the nervous system.

Commander Rea explained to me that the responsibility for dealing with "explosive objects" discovered is neatly divided. The Army copes with anything found on land, the Navy with anything at sea or on the beaches. The high water line is the dividing mark.

During a recent week Rea's team destroyed a torpedo warhead, 60 anti-aircraft shells, 71 rocket-heads, 40 grenades, several mortar bombs and a German parachute acoustic-magnetic mine.

The vast majority of things Rea and his team are called on to handle are rusty old bombs uncovered at beaches.

So far this year Rea's team has answered over 300 calls. "There's no sign of an end to it," he says.

Most of the beaches of Britain, particularly those on the South Coast facing France, were heavily mined during World War II. Though these have been repeatedly swept ever since, the regular six-monthly search never fails to yield still more explosive material.

Board To Review Ballot Defeats

The San Anselmo School District board will review the bond and loan issues which have been defeated by the voters three times and consider what their next step will be at a meeting at 8 p.m. today at Isabel Cook School.

The board will discuss the reasons for defeat of the $703,000 bond issue and $500,000 state loan by the voters July 21.

Other items on the agenda include programming of the school day, hiring of personnel, and student accident insurance.

Novato School Trustees To Meet

The Novato Unified School District trustees will hold a short special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the administration building to act on two items.

The first will be a request for consolidation of the unification election with the San Jose District at the Nov. 3 general election.

The other will be to sell a small parcel of surplus land at the Rancho School site on South Novato Boulevard.

Engineer's Magnet Has Lots Of Pull

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. research engineers have developed a superconducting magnet which will reportedly achieve a magnetic field of 100,000 gauss.

This is roughly 200,000 times the average magnetic field strength of the earth and about five times the field at which the iron core of a conventional electromagnet saturates. A new superconducting material, HI-120, made possible the super-strength solenoid. It is a niobium-titanium alloy recently developed by Westinghouse.
